Young singers all are students at St. Mary's High School, which every year features the carol-fest. Holy Land War Breaks Out Anew

Israeli Throws Everything Into Negev Assault

TEL AVIV, Dec. 23.—(BUP)—Hostilities broke out anew in south Palestine today, with Israeli land, sea and air forces reported attacking heavily, and Egypt asked the United Nations to act urgently on the alleged Jewish violation of the truce.

Brig. Gen. William Riley, chief UN truce observer in Palestine, received in Haifa a copy of the Egyptian appeal to the Security Council. The Cairo government message sent the appeal, based on charges of truce violation, to Paris where the council is meeting.

FULL-FLEDGED CAMPAIGN

UN observers reported from their field positions that the Jewish forces were pressing a full-fledged campaign against the Egyptian positions throughout a broad reach of the Negev.

Some hours after an Israeli military spokesman reported big scale fighting in the Negev, Lt. Col. Moshe Perlman, himself an army spokesman, said the fighting generally was "on a small scale so far." He declined to predict how the situation might develop.

Perlman said Israel informed the UN last night of Egyptian activity in the Nirim sector of the Negev.

IT'S COLD THAR IN MONTANA

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 23.—(AP)—It was 38 degrees below zero at West Yellowstone, in southwestern Montana today.

It was mighty cold elsewhere in Montana, too. Low readings included: Butte, -25; Drummond, -24; Missoula, -18 and Helena, -16.

Only two weather bureau stations reported above zero temperature readings—Great Falls with seven and Kalispell with three.

Colder Yule Is Forecast

Edmontonians can get out their ear muffs again, the mild spell is going to be short-lived.

According to the weatherman the temperature will start dropping this evening and continue to go down until Friday afternoon.

Little change is expected for Christmas, the following day.

A storm centre, which is developing off the coast of Northern British Columbia, is heading towards Edmonton and will overpower a mild air mass that has been moving in from Alaskan area.

The weatherman says after the mercury climbs to almost freezing point today, it will drop to five above during the night and continue on down until it hits zero Friday afternoon.

COLD AT COAST

Prairie-like weather today had the British Columbia mainland in an icy grasp with a white Christmas in prospect for Canada's "Evergreen Playground."

The mercury dropped to 11.8 degrees above zero in Vancouver with suburban Burnaby reporting eight above, and New Westminster nine.

It was the coldest December day in 24 years. The previous low was eight above, Dec. 7, 1924.

In comparison, Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, was warmer. There the reading was 17 above.

11. That agreement on the price of wheat to the United Kingdom is being considered here and in London and that decision might be delayed beyond Dec. 31, deadline set in the agreement for fixing the 1948-1950 price.

Plumer Seeks $2 Minimum Wheat Price

CALGARY, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Ber S. Plumer, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool, in a statement issued today says he thinks Western Canadian wheat growers should get a minimum price of $2.00 a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern Fort William, for all the wheat delivered from the 1945 to the 1949 crops inclusive.

Referring to a despatch from Ottawa, which said that British Government representatives had quoted speeches made in Canada by Agriculture Minister Gardiner to show that the prices paid for wheat under the British-Canadian agreement were better than wheat prices obtained by any other country, Mr. Plumer said:

"I do not know whether or not the British representatives made such statements. I would not like to think that they did.

BETTER PRICES

"As I recall Mr. Gardiner's speeches, he said that the ultimate wheat price for the five-year Canadian pool (1945 to 1949 inclusive) operated by the Wheat Board, would be better than prices received by the farmers of any other nation except the United States for wheat sold during the same period.

"We know that wheat sold on world markets by other countries has brought high prices in recent years. We have not been so greedy. But I do think that our forbearance entitles us to some consideration.

SOME CONSIDERATION

"The wheat farmers of the west have made a substantial price contribution over quite a few years, and one which has saved British and Canadian consumers, and Canadian taxpayers, a lot of money. We have done our share in trying to prevent inflation. I think we are entitled to fair consideration."

Wheat Price Not Decided

OTTAWA, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today he could not indicate when the 1949-50 Anglo-Canadian wheat price will be announced, but it will be made known as soon as a decision is reached.

He told a press conference that the question still is being considered in Ottawa and London, with a "serious" effort being made to reach agreement before the end of this year.

While the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement stipulates that the price must be fixed before Dec. 31, he indicated this will not be allowed to interfere with the negotiations and additional time would be taken if necessary.

He did not think Agriculture Minister Gardiner, who returned earlier this week from talks in London, will return to the United Kingdom, but he did not rule out this possibility. At present, the negotiations were continuing by official dispatches and they could be concluded by that method.

Dutch Expulsion From UN Is Demanded by Australia

PARIS, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Australia demanded today that Holland be expelled from the United Nations unless she halts her attack on the Indonesian republic.

HIS SNORING IS 'UNEARTHLY'

VERONA, N.J., Dec. 23.—(AP)—"Unearthly sounds" coming from a telephone in a private home were reported to police yesterday by a worried operator.

Suspecting anything, police scurried to the address. The householder said an extension telephone next to his bed was off the hook and sheepishly admitted:

"I must have been snoring."

RED CARNATION IS OUT-DATED

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(CP) — London florists were delighted when the Duke of Edinburgh appeared in public recently wearing a white carnation.

They think the favored dark-red carnation has "had its day," that its constant wear shows "lack of imagination" and that a change is long overdue.

The Duke of Windsor popularized the red carnation about 20 years ago when he was Prince of Wales.

UN Charges Civilians Slain

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Reports that Dutch troops are killing Indonesian civilians were relayed to the United Nations Security Council today.

The UN Good Offices Committee cabled the charge after the return to Batavia of 18 of its personnel from Kaliocrang, a mountain resort above Jogjakarta, where they had been isolated four days.

"There were reports of the fatal shooting of civilians," the committee said, "the shooting of an unarmed boy by an Ambonese soldier of The Netherlands forces was personally witnessed by a member of the secretariate staff and his young daughter."

At the same time, UN observers emphasized indications of widespread use of the torch by Indonesian republican forces to lay waste to areas they could not hold.

"Throughout Dec. 19, 20, 21, numerous explosions were heard and large columns of smoke were witnessed at many points in the valley below Kaliocrang," the committee report said.

RUSSIAN ATTACK

The Soviet Union also loosed a blistering attack on The Netherlands and demanded immediate withdrawal of Dutch troops from Indonesian territory seized in the current conflict.

Soviet delegate Jakob A. Malik said all members of the council should form a committee to enforce this withdrawal and added that he was introducing a resolution to this effect. A similar Russian proposal in the summer of 1947 was vetoed by France.

Malik declared The Netherlands had committed an "unprovoked aggression against the Indonesian people" and called on the council to pronounce judgment against The Netherlands for it.

Dr C. L. Hsia of China opened the second day of discussion of the Indonesian dispute in the Security Council. He declared China will support the resolution submitted by Dr. Philip C. Jessup of the United States yesterday.

The American resolution calls for an immediate halt to the fighting and and orders the Dutch forces to withdraw to positions occupied before they began their so-called "police action" against Indonesia.

Danish Butter Is Under Probe

OTTAWA, Dec. 23.—(CP)—National health department official said today investigations have been made as the result of reports that some Canadians found "something wrong with butter imported from Denmark."

He said that as a matter of routine the butter had been checked when it first started arriving here and the checks had been continued as a result of the reports. So far there was nothing to indicate that there was anything wrong with it.

"I think it quite possible," one official said, "that Danish butter simply tastes different than our own; it takes getting used to."

SPLASHES, SCREAMS, PULLS AWAY

Boy Fights Off Sharks In Grim 2-Day Battle

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba, Dec. 23.—(AP)—A 15-year-old cabin boy told yesterday how he "splashed and screamed and pulled away" from sharks in a grim battle for life that lasted almost two days in waters off the north coast of Cuba.

Russel Anthony Latona of Sacramento, Calif., the cabin boy, leaped overboard in a vain attempt to save the life of Bent Jeppesen, 14, a Danish lad also a cabin boy aboard the ship Grete Maersk.

Sharks killed Jeppsen. No other crew member saw the boys go overboard and they were not missed.

Russell, in the naval hospital here, said:

"I tried to save Bent, but the sharks got after him, and the spot where we were was soon red with blood, and the sharks got after me, too.

"Finally, the sharks killed Bent and I moved away from there, but they kept after me. I don't know how I kept them off, but I splashed at them, screamed and pulled away as fast as I could."

He jumped overboard when the ship was 10 miles northeast of Cape Maisi, Dec. 14. He finally reached shore near Taco, on the north coast of Cuba and about 10 miles from where he leaped into the sea.

He was exhausted. One foot bore the marks of shark or barracuda bites. A plantation owner cared for him for several days. Then he was brought here.

Officials said what saved the boy's life was his foresight in pitching a life belt into the sea. The boy said he grabbed the belt and jumped in when he saw his friend going down.

STRANDED EXPECTANT MOTHER IS RESCUED

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Dec. 23.—(AP)—An expectant mother, aboard an airplane forced down on a frozen Alaska lake, was rescued yesterday by a helicopter despite a raging blizzard.

A United States Army helicopter flew 10 feet above the waters of Cook Inlet to buck 70-mile winds and blinding snow.

Left at the lake was a U.S. Army C-64 which was damaged in an attempt to take off from the lake.

The woman is Mrs. Frieda Johanson, wife of a Kenai homesteader. She was being flown to Anchorage aboard a Pacific Northern Airlines plane when it was forced down yesterday afternoon on the lake, 2½ miles southeast of Point Possession, Cook Inlet.

She was taken to a private home here to await birth of her child.

The helicopter was flown to the scene yesterday immediately after word was received of the woman's plight. It carried a doctor and others. The C-64 followed but only the helicopter was able to take off.

A third rescue ship had been turned back earlier yesterday by "zero-zero" visibility at the scene.

Sask. Permission For Prosecution Of Bakers Given

REGINA, Dec. 23. — (CP) — Attorney-General J. W. Corman said today he has given consent on behalf of the province to a federal prosecution of the alleged breadbaking combine in western Canada.

If evidence disclosed an offence by the companies mentioned in an Ottawa investigation, Mr. Corman said, he was agreed the federal department of justice should undertake the prosecution.

"If Ottawa does proceed, my department will be represented at the hearings and will co-operate in every way with the federal authorities," Mr. Corman said.

Should the Dominion not proceed with prosecutions and law officers advised a case had been made against the baking companies, Saskatchewan then would go ahead on its own.

James Forrestal, U.S. defence secretary, revealed that in a war scare last spring, erroneous intelligence reports made on the eve of President Truman's appeal to Congress for universal military training legislation "might well have had serious consequences." The reports were sufficiently serious to force thought of universal mobilization.

13 Union Heads Labelled as Reds

20 CIO Affiliates Said Under Communist Control

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(BUP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee branded 13 CIO union leaders as Communists today and said 20 CIO affiliates are now or have been under Communist control.

The lists were carried in a committee pamphlet entitled "100 Things You Should Know About Communism and Labor." It is one of a series of five on communism in the United States.

SOME NAMED BEFORE

Many of the union officials named as communists by the committee have been so described previously by Congressional investigators. Those on today's list were Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union; Julius Emspak and James Matles of the United Electrical Workers; and Abram Flaxer, president of the United Public Workers of America.

In case of a war between the United States and Russia, the committee said, communists would "try to stall the (American) war machine in its tracks."

The House investigators said that communist domination of the longshoremen's union in wartime "could wreck the whole U.S. fighting power." The electrical workers union would have vital war equipment plants "at its mercy," they said in the pamphlet.

AFFILIATE GROUPS

In addition to the Longshoremen's and the Electrical Workers' unions, the pamphlet named the following CIO affiliates as having been Communist-controlled in 1944:

American Communications Association; International Fur and Leather Workers Union; International Union of Fishermen and Allied Workers of America; International Woodworkers of America; Marine Cooks and Stewards Association of the Pacific Coast; National Maritime Union; United Public Workers of America; Transport Workers Union; United Cannery, Agricultural, Packing and Allied Workers of America; United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers; United Furniture Workers; United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers, United Office and Professional Workers; United Packinghouse Workers; United Shoe Workers and the United Stone and Allied Products Workers.

The Communists already have demonstrated what they could do if this country ever went to war with Russia, the committee said.

"During the Stalin-Hitler pact (1939-41) they caused terrible strikes that delayed U. S. rearmament," the committee said. "For example (strikes at) Allis-Chalmers, Milwaukee; International Harvester, Harvill plant in Los Angeles; Vultee Aircraft North American Aviation, Los Angeles; Aluminum Company of America, Cleveland; the Mine Mill and Smelter Workers at Trona, Cal. and in Connecticut brass factories, all were led out by the Communists."

The vote was supervised by C. K. Murchison of the provincial labor department. Williams says he has not yet received the official report on the vote from Murchison.

Big Wales Hydro Project Planned

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(Reuters) — British electricians hope to harness the water power of mountainous North Wales in one of the greatest hydro-electric projects ever planned in the United Kingdom.

The output of 320,000,000 units of electricity a year would increase five-fold the present generating capacity of North Wales and save about half a million tons of coal a year.

If agreement is reached with local authorities six new hydro-electric projects will be constructed at a cost of £20,000,000 ($80,000,000).

Vote System Being Probed

MONTREAL, Dec. 23.—(CP)—D. L. Morrell, executive secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, announced today that ballots have been sent to 580 boards of trade and chambers of commerce throughout Canada asking if the alternative-vote system should be adopted in federal elections.

Decision to put the question to the boards and chambers was made at the recent annual meeting of the national chamber in Vancouver.

"If the referendum indicates a strong feeling either for or against the alternative vote, it will be a helpful indication to the government of how a large section of the Canadian community looks at this subject," said Mr. Morrell.

The alternative vote provides for marking first, second and perhaps further choices on the ballot.

NFLD. LEGISLATION

On the following Monday he would ask agreement of all parties to suspend debate on the address and take up at once the legislation necessary to effect the union of Newfoundland with the Dominion as a tenth province.

"This is urgent legislation," he said.

It would be necessary to submit the approved legislation to the United Kingdom parliament and the desire was to have union completed by March 31.

He said he had not had an opportunity to discuss this plan with leaders of the opposition parties but would do so at the earliest possible time.

The opening of parliament will be semi-formal as it has been during the war and since.

The Ninet-Yamaska by-election made necessary by the death of Lucien Dubois, Liberal, is being held on the earliest possible date consistent with the operations of the Election Act, the prime minister said and was fixed after consultation with the Dominion electoral officer.

Mr. Glen, a former speaker of the house and more recently resources minister, resigned his seat in Marquette to make way for the new justice minister, Hon. Stuart Garson, who was chairman of the international joint commission. That body appoints its own chairman and it is assumed that Mr. Glen will be chosen.

The prime minister said he hoped to announce soon the appointment of a replacement on the same commission to succeed the late J. E. Perrault. For some time the only Canadian member on the commission has been George Spence.

China Reds Driven Back

NANKING, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Nationalist warships at Tangku, isolated Tientsin's port city, drove off attacking Communists today, killing 1,500 of them, government sources said.

(Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Moosa in Peiping said many small Red attacks on the outskirts of Tientsin had been repulsed. Last night alone, he said, 800 Reds were killed or wounded, and as a result today the Communists were inactive.

(Moosa quoted Gen. Futso-Yi's headquarters in Peiping as saying the Reds were repulsed in almost every North China attack. Fu's headquarters said the Communists dared not attack Peiping directly because they know it is strongly fortified and the 2,000,000 inhabitants support the defenders wholeheartedly.

(Moosa added that whether these residents would show their support was another question. In his opinion the people of Peiping want peace above all.)

Holy Land War Flares Again

He reported that both Israeli and Egyptian planes were in action.

UN ORDER VIOLATED

The eruption of major hostilities two days before Christmas violated a United Nations Security Council order which brought a shaky peace to the Holy Land Nov. 16.

It was accompanied by an Israeli warning to the UN that the Jews reserved the right to freedom of action because Egypt had refused to negotiate for an armistice as ordered by the Security Council.

The first word of the new hostilities came from an Israeli military spokesman. He reported big scale fighting in a broad reach of the rainswept Negev, without saying who started it.

But the spokesman said the Israeli forces had driven the Egyptians from the entire northern Negev, and had opened up lines to Jewish settlements cut off in the Faluja pocket 20-odd miles south of Tel Aviv.

WIDESPREAD ACTION

UN truce headquarters in Haifa received the first details from its truce teams in the field. They were skimpy on Israeli infantry action, but reported widespread action by Israeli planes and warships.

One report said the Israeli forces struck at an air field in Egypt, presumably in an air attack.

Israeli naval units appeared off Gaza, key Egyptian base near the shore, and hurled shells into the town. Other Jewish vessels struck at smaller points along the coast, a UN truce headquarters spokesman said.

Observers at Gaza reported that soon after midnight Israeli planes swooped low over the town and dropped at least 16 bombs. Other planes pounded the coastal rail centre of Khan Yunis and a big Egyptian army camp at Rafa.

Air and ground attacks also were reported from Faluja, where some 2,000 Egyptian troops had been encircled since the last flurry of fighting in the Negev.

Reports to Tel Aviv late in the day said the Egyptians had thrown heavy tanks into the battle. Israeli sources reported that Jewish anti-aircraft fire was trained on Egyptian planes during an attack on a Jewish settlement this morning.

HERE are excerpts from a letter received from Mr. W. C. Kennedy, General Sales Manager of Frigidaire Products of Canada, Limited. These few paragraphs describe some of the production difficulties experienced by Frigidaire.

October 20,1948.

To All Frigidaire Appliance Dealers:

July, August and September were the poorest productive months we have had since starting back in business in November, 1945. There are many reasons why this developed and all of them were beyond our control.

Probably the greatest obstacle has been Canada's U.S. dollar-saving program creating a shortage of U.S. dollars. You all know that there are certain items, particularly steel, that still must be purchased in the United States and as a result of the U.S. dollar shortage we had to divert our manufacturing facilities from the production of refrigerators and ranges for the home market, to products for resale to certain export markets which would return us U.S. dollars, that we in turn could use to buy U.S. steel, etc., and in this way keep our facilities occupied here at the factory.

Our production of refrigerators and ranges is increasing. No, we won't be able to give you all the products you want for Christmas, but everything points to a much brighter delivery picture in the New Year.

LIKE MOTHER, LIKE DAUGHTER. Just about 35 years ago, Mrs. J. Clarkson, RR 1 South Edmonton, won a scholarship award for highest marks in Montreal. Wednesday afternoon, she watched her daughter, Bessie Clarkson, receive the Governor General's medal for highest Grade Nine marks in Edmonton's intermediate schools. Presentation was made at the Christmas program of the King Edward School by R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of schools.

Two Christmases In Jail Ordered

Pleading guilty to 17 charges of obtaining merchandise by false pretenses, Magistrate A. I. Millar Thursday morning sentenced Joseph Norman A. Macleod, 10629 104 street, to serve 18 months in the Fort Saskatchewan jail.

The offences were committed during the period from August of this year until early in December.

Representing himself as an employe of the Dominion government and several business establishments in the city, Macleod called at Edmonton wholesale offices and picked up goods which he had earlier ordered by telephone.

TOTALLED $744

Merchandise totalling $744 obtained by Macleod in this manner included a number of radios, tap and die sets, motors, car heaters, and dressed poultry.

He was apprehended by Detective Nelson of the City Police Force when he endeavored to dispose of some of the items at a local auction yard.

The 18-month sentence was imposed for 11 of the offences with sentences of four months on four and nine months on two, all to run concurrently.

GREETING COSTLY

The warmth of the Christmas greeting of Arnold Fletcher, resident of a 98 street hotel, cost him $150, police report.

When another guest at the hotel wished Fletcher a particularly hearty "Merry Christmas", He reciprocated by asking her to his room for a holiday drink.

When she had finished the drink and left the room, Fletcher found his wallet containing about $48 was missing.

THINGS BRIGHT

Santa Comes A-Calling For Yule Mail

Santa came breezing into the Bulletin this morning to check up on the small citizens of Edmonton and pick up the mail that comes here for him.

The overall report is good and youngsters can look forward to getting pretty much what they ask for this Christmas.

The little boy who wants a cowboy suit and a pony had probably just planned on the cowboy suit.

Those reindeer don't like to carry horses—they figure the horses should do some of the work, and naturally, horses can't fly.

Candy and trucks and dolls and sleighs are in good supply. BB guns—well—that takes a little checking with fathers. All you can do in that case is wait and see.

There was one moment when Santa's good cheer was a wee bit disturbed, just a wee bit mind you, but when he finds the someone who wants two front teeth for Christmas that someone is going to get a bale of cotton batting instead.

$12,000 Asked In 2 Actions

Damages totalling more than $12,000 are sought in two supreme court actions filed in supreme court today.

Claim was filed by the law firm of Field, Hyndman, Field and Zimmerman on behalf of Louis Janco, Mountain Park, seeking $6,642 special and general damages from Canadian National Railways.

The claim arises out of an accident at Miette Hot Springs on August 5 last in which the plaintiff suffered severe injuries when struck by an automobile owned by the CNR and driven by an employe named Mangan.

Lionel R. Tellier, Westlock barrister, filed a claim on behalf of Wilfred and Mrs. Mildred Beauchamp seeking $5,580 damages from Louis E. Scott and L. and C. Cabs, Red Deer.

The accident occurred on April 5 last about four miles north of Olds.

It is alleged the accident was due to negligence on the part of Mr. Scott, who was driving a company cab.

Oratory Tires Hon. D. Ure

It was a weary provincial minister of agriculture who came to the legislative buildings today.

Hon. David Ure attended a meeting at Hairy Hill on Wednesday night at which district farmers and residents of the settlement honored John T. Eihik, crowned World Oat King at the Chicago grain fair recently.

"There were 26 speakers," Mr. Ure reported wearily, "and they all had something to say."

Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education had previously laid claim to a record in the number of speakers at a meeting. There were 14 citizens made addresses at a ceremony opening Smoky Lake school earlier this month.

But this record is dimmed by the rush to pay tribute to the Oat King of the world.

Policemen Play Santa

Several score children spent Wednesday night in the hands of the law—and had a wonderful time.

Members of the city police force laid aside the tools of their trade, handcuffs and holsters, and entertained their families at the annual Christmas party in the recreation hall of the police station. All members except those on duty for the night attended.

Games and entertainment wound up with the arrival of Const. Bernie Nicholson who exchanged navy blue serge for the fireman red of a Santa Claus suit and passed out gifts to the youngsters.

Curtailed Service

Local milk firms will maintain their regular delivery service with the exception of Christmas day, although local bakeries will have no deliveries Saturday, Sunday or Monday.

A baby chick, peeping in its shell before hatching, will be quiet at the hen's warning cluck.

Party Is Held At Riverdale

Bubbling over with the spirit of Christmas, about 40 kiddies put on a delightful concert at Riverdale Community hall Thursday afternoon, for about 30 appreciative mothers.

Following the concert, everybody enjoyed a Christmas lunch. The children, wearing paper hats, were thrilled with anticipation at the arrival of Santa Claus. When he made his appearance he had in his pack a gift for every kiddie present, as well as a Christmas bag of apples, oranges and nuts.

New Branch Set

The Bank of Montreal today announced that it plans to open a fourth branch in Edmonton.

The new office, which will be situated at 10615 82nd avenue, is being established for the convenience of residents in the South Side district. It is being remodelled for occupancy shortly.

A Safe Christmas

It is desirable to have a happy Christmas.

It will be nice if everyone can have a carefree Christmas and a prosperous Christmas and a Christmas without anxiety or fear or pain.

But it is equally desirable that we should have a safe Christmas because no one can be happy, carefree or without pain and fear if the spectre of accident and sudden death is permitted to haunt the holiday.

Every year in Canada scores of persons are killed or disabled by accidents during the Christmas-New Year celebration.

Most of these accidents occur in traffic mishaps.

But a fall on the slippery streets, fire in a carelessly lighted Christmas tree and even too much exuberance in the home can bring disaster as easily as a traffic smash can bring it.

The classic warning at this time of year is against the incompatible mixture of gasoline and alcohol. And although it has been said many times before, it must be said again—if you drink don't drive and if you drive don't drink.

Start to your destination in plenty of time and take it easy.

Remember that the roads will be crowded with unusual traffic and that even if you yourself have been wise in your potations, the other fellow may not have been so considerate.

Remember that pedestrians are likely to be unusually careless at this time of year.

Remember that the general festivity of the season tends to fling away caution.

This is a season of giving gifts. And there is one extra gift you can give this year by being careful.

Perhaps you will give it to your wife or husband or one of your children or to a complete stranger. You may even give it to yourself.

And it is a gift worth giving because it is the gift of life.

Farmers Getting Poor Break Over Dairy Products

PHILPOTT

There is no man in all Canada who has rendered better, saner, public service over a period of many years than H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Herb is not only the head of all organized agriculturists in Canada, but is himself the most farm-minded public man I have ever known.

Years ago, when he was setting in order the depression-hit United Farmers of Ontario, I got to know Herb well. I put him down as the most sound-and-solid exponent of the common-sense farm viewpoint that I had come across in Canada.

Slow talking, slow to come to conclusions, Herb's judgments were always as solid and common-sense as the earth in which he kept his feet-so firmly planted.

Now, in the press and over the radio, I hear that Herb is really mad.

So I say to the politicians, to trade unionists and their city bosses—look out!

For if Herb Hannam is mad, about the butter and margarine fiasco then we can bet that all the farmers of Canada are mad too. And if and when the farmers of Canada get mad enough to stand up and really fight for their rights in Canada, make for the cyclone cellars, city folks. For there is going to be quite a blow, yes, quite a blow.

Clear, Simple

The crux of Mr. Hannam's complaint is clear and simple. The ban on the manufacture and sale of butter-substitute within Canada has now been lifted. But the ban, also imposed by our government, against shipment of dairy products to U.S.A. still remains.

In other words, the Canadian dairy farmer is going to have more competition. But part of his best natural market is still arbitrarily closed to him, not by action of the U.S.A. but by his own Canadian government.

Readers of this column are aware that I have long urged lifting the ban against manufacture and sale of margarine.

Here is a fine product of high food value that can be made entirely from Canadian farm products, right here in Canada. The people should have a right to buy it, and eat it, especially as many cannot afford butter at present prices, and as we are now forced to import millions of pounds of butter from other lands.

But city folks should remember the background facts of the ban on margarine. It was, frankly, a protectionist device. It was a sort of invisible tariff wall. There were hundreds of tariff walls which favored the city manufacturer and factory worker at the expense of the farmer. This one (originally) gave almost all Canadian farmers a break—something in return.

City people cannot expect that the farmer will always be the goat, always take the short end both going and coming.

But surely the remedy is not a city-versus-country economic war. Surely the remedy is to really try to unite on objectives desired by all people.

"Roll back prices" is a policy which has enlisted the support of all trade unions, farmers, as well as women's organizations.

I note that the Chamber of Commerce announces that it too favors some such move. Surely when we have such a widespread demand for the same thing the government can give a national lead.

Large Spread

One way to roll back prices would be to reduce the spread between what the farmer gets and what the city consumer pays.

I would like to see the Liberal government listen to the request of the Catholic Federation of Labor and appoint a Fair Price Board to assist toward this end. Even publicity can be a useful force in this matter.

No man in Canada would be better qualified to head such a board than the veteran Progressive Conservative Hon. Harry Stevens.

The work he did in the Price Spread probe of the early 1930's would be invaluable in such a task.

Appointment of a non-Liberal to such a post would demonstrate to the public that the difficulties we face threaten all of us, and that Canadians intend to fight them as a united people.

Sensible, Practical and Smart

The staff and pupils of Forest Heights public school are to be congratulated upon devising a solution to the comic book problem which is sensible, practical and intelligent.

Under the direction of Principal Stanley H. Churchill, the children are determined to do their share towards minimizing the circulation of crime comics and trashy tabloids.

So their proposal is to substitute reading that is wholesome and useful. They believe that if children have attractive and clean magazines to read they will be weaned away from the wild and hectic ones.

To that end, the pupils of Forest Heights school are raising money for subscriptions to better magazines of interest to children.

These publications, says Mr. Churchill, will be available for reading at school and the children will be encouraged to borrow them to take home.

This is a positive approach to a problem that is causing grave concern, not only in Edmonton, but in every part of Canada.

For the harmful effect of crime comics was established in fact when a recent murder in British Columbia was directly traceable to their influence.

To give children something to replace this fiery stuff is infinitely more effective than merely try to ban it.

Liquidating the Empire

The bill has been signed in Dublin which severs the last link between Eire and the British Commonwealth and the Socialist dream of liquidating the Empire comes one step nearer reality.

The Empire is still a substantial entity held together by the Crown. But it is not the fault of Britain's Attlee government.

It would be presumptuous to say with assurance that Eire was driven out of the Empire. But certainly no government hand was lifted in London to protest the separation.

No one will begrudge the Southern Irish the fullest measure of independence and sovereignty. But surely it would have been possible to hold them within the loose limits of the Commonwealth as free and equal members with Britain as Canada and Australia, New Zealand and South Africa are free and equal members.

There can be no doubt about the intent of British Socialists to dismember the Commonwealth.

Sir Stafford Cripps has announced that purpose plainly.

And the pin-pricking in trade matters imposed on Canada by Attlee bureaucrats is significant of the general attitude of Mr. Attlee's government towards imperial ties.

It is unfortunate, to put it gently, that the Socialist mania for dismemberment should be pursued with such vigor when the great majority of the British people have surely not forgotten what the Empire means.

Today it is pathetic. Tomorrow it may be tragic.

It will surely be tragic if the Attlee government is re-elected to continue its hazardous course of isolating Britain.

Letters to the Editor

Market, Parking

Editor, Bulletin—In regard to the future of the present market square, the Edmonton Market Stallholders' Association did not object so much to the building of a federal building on part of the square, but did object very strongly to the proposal of the commissioners that the market should be moved off to some other location.

If it is finally decided by the city council to allow construction of the federal building on the market square opposite the post office there will still be plenty of room left for the erection of a new market building on the same square only a little further east of the present building.

What we stallholders on the market object to (and some of us have been there for over thirty years) is that the city commissioners is using space should take precedence over market space.

I can only say that I am astounded at their view. Downtown parking has, no doubt, become a problem, but to say that the site of the market, that has been established for over forty years and is weekly patronized by thousands of Edmonton citizens, should have to make way to provide parking place for cars, indicates a complete lack of understanding of the comparative importance of things in this city on the part of our city commissioners.

I have spoken to a considerable number of Edmonton businessmen on the subject, and, without a single exception, they have said that of course the market should take precedence over car parking.

I feel confident that our city aldermen, when the matter is put fairly before them, will take the same view. I repeat, if the federal building does occupy the proposed site opposite the post office there will still be plenty of room left for the erection of a new market building on the same square only a little further east of the present building.

It would be interesting to learn the views of The Bulletin's readers on the subject.

Error In Letter

Editor, Bulletin—Please correct the typographical error made in my letter of Dec. 16th in which you print the word "you" when it should be "your."

The table in full was "To Aberhart, Calgary, Canada. Dean of Canterbury agreed commence speaking four months continent September eighteen Montreal. Will turn election if suitably supported—Douglas."

It would appear that in 1948 the Dean is endeavoring to do for Stalin what he did for Douglas in 1935.

Brighter Promise?

Editor, Bulletin—I notice in the last Peoples Weekly that A. J. H. Powell, Edmonton school teacher on exchange to Great Britain, writes:

"England is a far better country with a far brighter promise for the future, than she was 40 years ago."

Mr. Powell further said that the people of England are not the "protein-famished, pallid, disheartened, patched-and-tattered beings whom propaganda has painted."

My comment is this: Surely Mr. Powell must know that the British people are being fed largely on credit and gifts supplied by the United States and Canada! That cannot go on forever. No matter what legislation the British government passes some means must be found for the British to pay for the food and other imports they require.

With the loss of India, of the bulk of overseas investments, of her position as "banker for the world" Britain is certainly not in as good a position as she was 40 years ago, despite what the ex-Edmonton school teacher says.

TRUTH SEEKER.

Matter Of Tact

Editor, Bulletin—Prior to publication of General Eisenhower's memoirs, I had great admiration for him, but by his own ill-advised action in breaking silence he has dispelled the halo. I imagine many others feel similarly.

It was perfectly clear that by running into print he incurred the danger of alienating the feelings of either the British or the Americans. As obviously he had to mollify the latter, he has had to detract from the accomplishments of the British Commonwealth.

He had no experience whatever as a commander in the field. For his appointment as commander-in-chief, the only possible qualification he had was "tact". Now his egotistic utterances—which have contributed nothing to the history of the war—make it evident that he has the British who had to exercise all the tact.

Eisenhower removed General Patton in the midst of a critical action in Sicily to another continent to apologize to a private. He hazarded the success of a military operation to go in with the press and a petted public.

As for his criticisms of Churchill—who will live long after the name of Eisenhower is forgotten—these can not be forgiven or condoned. Eisenhower has feet of clay, a fact which would never have been known, had he not chosen to advertise it.

Reprinted Material

Editor, Bulletin—I am taking this opportunity to write to you regarding the "Arts" section of your Saturday newspaper, but more particularly the story by Jerry Forbes under the heading "Stan Kenton Breaks Up His Band Once Again".

Having bought a copy of one of the large music magazines and to my amazement on the front page some other title the story re Stanley Kenton.

Your reporter didn't even do a good job copying the aforementioned article. He stressed Kenton breaking up his band whereas the music magazine emphasized Stan's intention of putting Jazz in its right place and opening up an entirely new field of strictly concert jazz.

Now surely if Mr. Forbes chooses to copy his material why doesn't he get it straight?

Don't think for one minute that men like Cooper, Manne, Safranski, etc., are getting the axe, 'cause they won't. This ward rebuilding doesn't necessarily mean kicking all his sidemen out.

Come now, Mr. Editor, let's get original material because anybody can copy, even I.

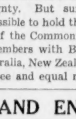
ODDS AND ENDS

By Harold L. Weir

When Grandfather Trims the Christmas Tree

The tree was appallingly naked. A gracious thing rooted among its kind, it took on a raffish air intruding in that prim drawing room. There was a leer in the way it lounged against its guy-wires — for all the world like Monsieur Blandois in chains.



WEIR

He gaunt nudity was abashed, yet defiant.

Aunt Mabel should feel some phase of religious experimentation. Aunt Mabel had been a symbol at.

Cousin Hector shuddered, too. He was no symbolist, but in a turbulent family life, Hector had learned that nudity means clothing and clothing means bills and bills meant work.

To him the naked tree said, "I haven't a thing to wear."

There was a high-pitched voice from the doorway:

"Don't touch it, now! Don't touch it one of you. I'm going to trim that tree."

Aunt Mabel whispered to me, "Grandfather loves to trim the tree."

I had gathered that.

Aunt Mabel turned to the old gentleman with that querulous clucking wherewith the frustrated maternal instinct betrays itself toward the very young and the very old. She straightened his necktie and buttoned his velvet jacket.

Grandfather pushed her away violently. "Lemme alone—," he began in a quavering scream. Then his eye fell on a yellow spot on his jacket. He glared at it, rubbed it with his finger and put his finger into his mouth.

"Ezz," he said, reflectively.

"Untidy feeder." Cousin Hector muttered gloomily in my ear.

Mabel Bustled

There was a pile of tinsel rope lying at the foot of the tree. Boxes of glittering ornaments were heaped up. A mountain of gaily berribboned packages loomed up in the corner.

Aunt Mabel began to bustle. She always bustled.

"Now then," she said briskly, "let's get started." She picked up an end of the tinsel rope and commenced twining it aimlessly in the evergreen branches.

"Drop that!" Grandfather screamed. Aunt Mabel dropped the rope and looked at Grandfather reproachfully. Then she bent down to pick up a box of ornaments.

The old gentleman kicked at her hand.

"Drat me, Mabel!" he said, "you let that alone or I'll squish your fingers."

Aunt Mabel sniffed. "Come on, Hector," she said, and moved toward the door.

"You can help, Hector," said the old man ingratiatingly.

"Oh no, Sir!" ejaculated my cousin, fervently edging after Aunt Mabel.

Grandfather looked at me. He winked one rheumy eye.

"Rum," he said. "Very rum."

Not For Children

The old man seemed to have lost his enthusiasm. He tottered to the frosty window and by dint of breathing on it noisily and holding his palm flat against it, opened up a steamy peep-hole and peered out.

Half a mile away, across the white fields, was the churchyard, its red brick wall piled high with fleecy drifts.

His cobweb-grey hair untidy across his ears, his velvet jacket stuck out querrly behind, and one gnarled hand shading his eyes, Grandfather looked out silently across the fields until I began to fidget.

I cleared my throat.

"Shut up!" said Grandfather, without looking around.

Suddenly the old man turned towards me.

"I suppos. you think Christmas is for children?" he asked.

"Yes, Sir, I suppose it is," I returned.

"Well, it isn't," he snapped. Then he softened a little. "It's for old men, like me," he said. "Nobody else understands it."

He bridled up again. "That's why I wouldn't let that old mule help me with the tree."

I presumed he meant my Aunt Mabel.

"And that—that—that other Jackanapes!" he fumed. He leaned towards me confidentially:

"D'you know, he carries his wife's breakfast to bed?"

That was for Cousin Hector.

Thing Of Loveliness

It was late afternoon when the tree was decorated and the lowering sun was leaning pale shafts of lemon yellow against the red brick wall across the fields.

The old gentleman had panted and puffed and snorted and cursed, as he climbed precariously up and down his step-ladder, twining the ropes of gold and silver and crimson among the green needles and fastening the shining blobs of glass on tiny branches.

It was a transformation. The lewd, green cadaver had become a thing of loveliness. Lights winked among its gay garments.

It held itself with a nice dignity, aloof, yet warmly beautiful.

I stood in admiration. For a Christmas tree is still a Christmas tree—even when one is—well, when one is getting old.

Perhaps I was lost in reverie—for a tree does conjure up memories—because I was startled when I heard a sound behind me.

"God's tree," said Grandfather, in a loud voice.

Lies Across The Set

Most of the packages were piled neatly around the foot, now, or perched precariously among the branches as the old man's obstinate fancy would have them.

"I have a few more," he said, looking at me curiously. And he hobbled to the door of the old closet that never would open easily. He tugged at it and damned it vigorously until I went to his assistance.

Grandfather had an armful of parcels, more richly wrapped, if possible, than those that already glorified the tree.

He placed them tenderly in an armchair. One by one he took them up and squinted narrowly at the labels. Then he selected one. There was an odd exultation in his manner.

He placed his parcel in the tree.

"This is for Tom," he said.

Again I was dreaming. For the word struck no false note in my memory for the moment.

Then I realized with a shock that Tom had been killed fighting with his regiment in Greece.

Had the old man forgotten? Should I pain him by recalling the dreadful fact?

I decided against it. It was just an aberration, I thought. Grandfather must be failing fast.

Poor Tom! He and I had played together as children in this very room. And now he rested forever, somewhere by the blue Aegean Sea.

But Grandfather was fumbling again with his parcels.

"And this one is for Lydia," he said.

There was no mistake now. The old man must be mad. For in 1941 Lydia, lovely Lydia, had died when the hospital in which she was nursing had crumbled beneath a German bomb.

Dear Lydia!

It was ten years since I had seen her. But I could recall as vividly as though it were yesterday, her smiling eyes, her gentle hands, her honey-colored hair.

Those soft, cool hands, I knew, had soothed the foreheads of the dying and from those deep-blue eyes had fallen tears upon the broken children of the war.

Dear Lydia!

Deeper Reverence

There was a deeper reverence in the old man's manner as he lifted the last parcel from the chair and approached the tree.

I had an awful suspicion of what was to come. I think there was a thrill of something very like horror in my heart.

Certainly there was pain.

As he passed me, I gently took the parcel from his hand and glanced rapidly at the inscription.

He said nothing. Nor did he resist me as I took the parcel from him.

"But Grandfather. I stammered, "Grandmother is—is—"

"Nonsense!" said the old man roughly, snatching the package from my hand, "There are no dead."

He took a long time to place this one. He tried one branch and then another. Finally, he dragged out the stepladder again and mounting laboriously to the top, wedged his gift almost at the summit, just beneath the blazing Star.

He climbed down shakily and surveyed his handiwork. He inclined his head to one side and then the other. He appeared to be satisfied.

I was conscious that he had gone again to the window and, with his hand, was clearing off the patch that had become misted over again.

For minutes, it seemed, he peered through the frosted window towards that mortal acre where the snow was climbing high against the red brick wall.

"God's tree," he said.

Smiles

"Johnny, can you tell me the difference between attraction of gravitation and attraction of cohesion?"

"Yes, sir. Attraction of gravitation pulls a drunken man to the ground, and the attraction of cohesion prevents him getting up again."

"Oh, Mr. Smith, can I speak to you a moment?"

"Certainly, young man," said Mr. Smith. "What is it?"

"Well, Mr. Smith, I—er—er—that is to say—can I—will—you—would you mind——"

"Well, well, well," laughed Mr. Smith. "So you want to marry my daughter and are shy about asking, eh? Take her, my boy; marry her, and good luck to you."

"Oh, no, it wasn't that, Mr. Smith. I—I wondered if you could lend me some money."

"Lend you some money?" glared Mr Smith. "Certainly not! Why, I hardly know you!"

From Today's News

By Dewitt Mackenzie

The hanging of former Japanese Premier Tojo and six other conspirators against humanity is being received in the United States with mixed feelings.

My contacts indicate that the reactions range from extreme satisfaction to some uneasiness. On one point everybody seems agreed: If anyone should suffer the death penalty, these seven certainly should.

Of course, there is a large group which is against capital punishment on religious grounds.

Apart from this religious opposition, a good many people are concerned over the fact that these and similar trials have been held under rules laid down since the war by the victors.

Everybody agrees that aggressive war is just as much a crime against humanity as the atrocities which may grow out of it. However, a lot of folk—most of all the high military—want to know just how you are going to assess responsibility for the crimes.

You know the top man is guilty. That's Tojo. But are his ministers and the high commands of his fighting forces equally responsible with him? They have to take his orders or be charged with disloyalty to their country. And if they are equally responsible, how far down the line does responsibility go for an order issued at the top? Does it reach down to the rank-and-file?

Mind you, thus far in Japan or in Germany there has been little question about the participation of the accused in the crimes charged. Irrespective of whether they were carrying out commands from higher up, they were committing atrocities.

I think most of the concern is over whether possibly a precedent is being set for carrying out "justice of the victor."

There are many who believe that this situation can be satisfactorily met only by the creation of international laws by the United Nations, covering all aspects of war. The UN already has made a start in that direction by outlawing genocide—the mass destruction of racial, religious or national groups.

So far as Togo and his evil colleagues are concerned, having failed their country by not winning the war they should have committed hari-kari, according to the Japanese code of honor. As a matter of fact Tojo did try but didn't quite succeed. The Allied tribunal has done a better job.

Irrigation Project Makes Progress

Winter Is Not Holding Up Big Development In South

LETHBRIDGE, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Winter isn't holding up a $15,000,000 irrigation project in southern Alberta which is expected to give fertility back to 345,000 acres of semi-arid prairie and foothills land.

The second major step in the vast St. Mary's-Milk rivers irrigation system will get under way next month when construction begins on one of the key water tunnels.

Already the muddy waters of the St. Mary's river are gushing through a concrete-lined tunnel 20 feet in diameter past where workmen have been raising a huge dam, about 30 miles southwest of here.

DAM QUARTER READY

The diversion tunnel—2,119 feet from portal to portal—was finished last summer and the dam which will create a reservoir for the system is about one-quarter completed. It will be ready sometime after the summer of 1950.

In January, 1949, a Calgary construction firm—Assiniboia Engineering Company—will begin work on another tunnel—71 feet in diameter and 2,500 feet long—which will distribute water to a far-flung network of irrigation ditches.

This main artery will pour water into the main canal feeding an irrigation system which is expected to make the land produce up to 18 times as much as it does now.

There will be an assured water supply for the rolling land extending 100 miles east to the Saskatchewan-Alberta border. This dry area now supports between two to three persons a square mile but with irrigation it is expected to provide for as many as 89 persons a square mile.

COSTS OF BUILDING

Cost of construction of dams, reservoirs, main canals and other structures is estimated at more than $7,000,000 and will be borne by the federal government.

The $8,000,000 balance will be provided by the Alberta government to finance construction of water distribution systems and colonization. Most of this sum eventually will be recovered by the province through annual charges against the watered lands.

Irrigation in the area is expected to bring about a revolution in crops produced. Instead of planting wheat which yields about $20 an acre, farmers are being educated to switch to beet crops worth $125 or $225 an acre or vegetable canning crops worth $120 to $130 an acre.

Dionne Quints to Wait Another Week for Gifts

CALLANDER, Ont., Dec. 23.—(BUP)—The five young ladies of Callander, Canada's famous Dionne quintuplets, are right in the midst of their holiday preparations.

But, while other Canadian teenagers are getting excited over the coming visit of St. Nick, Annette, Emilie, Cecile, Marie and Yvonne will have another week to wait for their gifts.

According to French custom, New Year is the time for exchanging presents. And Christmas is usually a quiet family day to be observed by going to mass and by a family dinner.

ON HOLIDAY

The quints, who are 14 this year, have been on holidays since last Friday when Villa Notre Dame, their own private school, closed for vacation.

The school was founded two years ago for the quintuplets and nine hand-picked girl companions. It is run by the Sisters of Assumption.

Oliva Dionne, father of the quints, says his five young girls are now studying grade nine subjects, as prescribed by the Ontario Department of Education.

These include English literature and composition, British history, geography, general mathematics, general science, French music, art and domestic science.

PUBLICITY TAKEN OVER

Papa Dionne has personally taken over the handling of all publicity for his five-teen-aged daughters.

Up to this year the sisters at Villa Notre Dame took care of all public relations. But Papa Dionne says he's going to do that from now on.

Dionne says on Christmas the quintruplets and the family will attend midnight mass in the convent chapel. And at Christmas the family will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dionne and a new granddaughter, Lise.

The quints have an outdoor rink on which to perfect their skating technique. And when the British United Press reporter spoke to Papa Dionne about the coming celebrations he said his five daughters were outdoors sweeping five inches of snow from the rink.

U.K. Railroaders File Strike Notice

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(Reuters)—The National Union of Railwaymen last night decided to serve notice on the Minister of Labor that "a dispute now exists" with the authorities in charge of the state-owned transport system over the rejection of the union's claim for increased pay. Unless the minister takes action the union will consider itself free to call a strike within 21 days.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Listen closely, children, and you'll hear how Christmas is celebrated in this strange land.

In Brazil, the children hang up their stockings and put out their shoes as well. In Sweden, the Christmas celebration lasts until Jan. 13. Hollywood too has its unusual customs.

Hollywood holiday starts in July when studio starlets pose in bathing suits or less before wintry scenes concocted on film stages. With scant regard to season, the curvy cuties hang their stockings in the summer heat—so their likenesses can appear in December magazines.

Christmas begins in earnest on the night before Thanksgiving. Hollywood boulevard is transformed by magic and $50,000 worth of lighted metal trees into Santa Claus lane. Hundreds of thousands of natives and tourists converge on film-town's main stem to watch radio and film stars slide past on floats.

The holiday season is declared open. Cautious early shoppers hasten to stores, which they find filled with others just as cautious. Stars mingle with script clerks at the counters as loudspeakers carol "Peace on Earth."

Film making is carried on during the morning before Christmas, most companies do no shooting in the afternoon, possibly because the nearness of holiday cheer makes some actors unphotogenic.

Fir forests spring up overnight on the vacant lots of Wilshire Boulevard. Fields of poinsettias tinge the slopes near the sunset strip. And the air is crisp and expectant despite the sunshine of Christmas morning. That's the Hollywood holiday.

Ethiopians Seek Two For War Crime Trial

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Ethiopia has demanded the surrender by Italy of Marshal Pietro Badoglio, former Italian prime minister and Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, former Italian governor-general of Ethiopia, for trial as war criminals, the Ethiopian legation in London announced.

The demand was made in identical notes addressed to the British, United States, French and Russian governments.

The note named 10 Italians alleged guilty of war crimes and crimes against humanity during the war against and occupation of Ethiopia.

ONLY TWO

It stated that Ethiopia had decided to bring only two of these men to trial, Badoglio and Graziani, "as the persons most responsible for the policy of systematic terrorism during the occupation."

Ethiopia invoked Article IV of the Italian Peace Treaty which requires Italy to take all necessary steps to surrender for trial persons accused of war crimes. It also invoked Article 86 which stated that for the first 18 months after the Treaty came into force Sept. 15, 1947, the United States, British, French and Russian ambassadors in Rome, acting in concert, should represent the allies in dealing with Italy.

The note stated that the two men would be tried before an international tribunal constituted by the Ethiopian government with a majority of non-Ethiopian judges.

Australia's population is only 7,606,723. The policy of the government is to treble that number, mainly by immigration.

'White Christmas' Unlikely In Britain

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(Reuters)—First snow of the English winter fell in Cumberland yesterday. However, the chances of a "white Christmas" elsewhere are less than they appeared to be earlier this week, air ministry weather experts said, because of an "anti-cyclone" which, instead of moving toward Scandinavia, had come to the British Isles.

BRITONS NAME BEST U.S. FILM

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—British exhibitors were reported yesterday to have voted "The Best Years of Our Lives" the greatest box-office success of United States movies they showed in the year ended Sept. 30.

The cinema, a trade weekly, said the picture was named in a poll of 1,400 independent film bookers.

Among British movies, "The Courtneys of Curson Street" was named the greatest success.

Prisoners Get Christmas Leave

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Dec. 23.—(Reuters)—Eighteen men will be released from Belfast prison today on four days' Christmas leave. Monday they will return to complete their sentences. The men, all first offenders with good conduct records, will be taking part in "an experiment in humanizing prison conditions."

Week-end parole has already been given to smaller numbers of men and all of them have returned.

Rita, Ali Khan Reach Ireland

COBH, Dec. 23.—(BUP)—Rita Hayworth, Hollywood movie star, and Indian Prince Ali Khan, disembarked today from the liner Britannic.

Miss Hayworth and her escort said they would spend Christmas in Ireland. They refused to reveal their future plans.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Boards of Trade Plan Joint Action

WETASKIWIN, Dec. 23. — Alberta Board of Trade and Agriculture is endeavoring to arrange a number of mid-winter meetings with the boards of trade of Central Alberta towns and cities at which many matters of common interest may be brought up for discussion and possible concerted action.

First of these may be held at Hardisty, Jan. 21. The date at present is tentative, depending upon its being suitable to a majority of the towns which would be attending there, as a central point.

The meetings are rather wider in scope than board of trade meetings as the mayors and secretaries of the towns and cities are also being invited to attend.

H. O. Braden is the Wetaskiwin representative on the Alberta Board of Trade and Agriculture and has been in communication with C. F. Pais, Castor, president, and with K. D. Porter, Red Deer, secretary of the organization.

A matter that Mr. Braden would like to see discussed at these meetings is the question of tax exemption for individuals on savings specifically designed for old age annuities or pensions. Mr. Braden points out that in the majority of large institutions this is a well recognized policy and the tax exemption is allowed. It is however denied to the individual, or to individuals in small groups. This, he claims, is an injustice that should be remedied by federal action.

Work of Firemen Saves Building At Beaverlodge

HIGH PRAIRIE, Dec. 23.—Prompt response of the fire chief, Webb Ferris, and his men quickly put out a fire in the Hotel Spaulding recently. About $500 worth of damage was done.

Wilson, Pat O'Neil and others.

Excellent results have been obtained by the use of the La France fire wagon, which carries two hose, 100 feet long with 120 lbs. pressure each and CO2 for gas and oil fires. Buildings saved include the Bissell house, Freeman's store, Edmund Peyre's house, Mrs. Cooks planer mill, Scouts shack and Alvin Cox's new residence and the power plant besides various chimney fires.

Regina Capitals Back on Beam; Wallop Saskatoon by 8-1 Count

Power Breakdown Holds Up Game for Fifty Minutes

REGINA, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Regina Caps took a four-point lead in the Western Canada Hockey league Wednesday night when overpowering the hapless Saskatoon Quakers 8-1 in a game delayed more than 50 minutes because of light failure at the Regina arena.

The first period was near the half-way mark, with neither team having scored, when a power disturbance caused lights in the rink to go out. The 3,400 fans sat in darkness for almost an hour before repairs were completed and the game continued.

Vic Myles celebrated resumption of the match by drilling in Regina's first goal and from then on Caps were never seriously threatened. They increased their lead to 2-0 before the end of the period, ran it up to 3-1 in the mid-session, and completely dominated the third period, scoring three times while holding Quakers helpless.

McCullough, Schriner, Bill Kyle Et Al

Chuck McCullough with two goals and one assist led Caps' attack, while Bill Kyle and Sweeney Schriner each scored once and assisted twice. Other Regina scorers were Myles, Dutch Van Deelan, Ab McDougall and Gus Kyle.

Right winger George Stevens scored the lone Saskatoon goal early in the second period.

A sweeping Regina triumph was not evident during the first five minutes of play, both clubs putting up a strong performance. Then Myles went off and Quakers pressed with an attack which almost netted them goals. Play was even again shortly after Myles' return on the ice.

Myles' goal on a pass from Bill Kyle came shortly after play resumed, following the power break. 'Dutch' Van Deelan potted the second on a passout from behind the net.

Regina Starts Clicking In Earnest

Regina's passing plays began clicking in earnest in the second period and their defence foiled Quaker rushes, only Stevens managing to upset the tight rearguard for Quakers' lone goal of the game.

Then came three Regina goals, McDougall scoring the first on a double pass from Bill Kyle and Van Deelan, Schriner getting the second from McCullough, and Gus Kyle counting the third on a long shot.

The third period was completely dominated by the home team, Bill Kyle scoring first, then McDougall adding two more goals for the final 8-1 score.

Bruins Return to Form On Sandford's Heroics

BOSTON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—With Eddie Sandford countering twice, Boston Bruins broke a six-game winless streak by topping the crippled Detroit Red Wings 5-2 Wednesday night before 13,000 persons at the Boston Garden. The decision enabled the Bruins to shave the Red Wings' National Hockey League lead to a single point.

The Bruins romped off to a 2-0 lead in the first period by taking advantage of Detroit penalties. Defenceman Leo Reise was off when Pat Egan drilled a 65-foot shot through Goalie Harry Lumley during the third minute of play.

Sandford's initial counter came while George Gee was in the penalty box. Jack Crawford opened the gates for Sandford by dumping Lumley out of his net.

SANDFORD AGAIN

Sandford tallied again after 53 seconds of second period action and the Red Wings were unable to flash the red light until about 14 minutes later, when Pete Horeck converted Max McNab's assist while Fernie Flaman was absent from the Boston defence to replace a broken stick.

Red Wings, who outshot the Bruins by the top-heavy margin of 34-20, appeared back in the game early in the finale, when Sid Abel nudged in a goal as his teammates milled about the Boston crease.

But the Bruins more than settled matters by scoring twice in 90 seconds, on shots by little Kenny Smith and Paul Ronty.

Ronty had darted inside the Detroit defence for Johnny Peirson's forward pass and was spilled by Lee Fogolin. But the blond Boston pivotman, while prostrate, managed to hook the puck through the narrow opening on the right side of Lumley's net.

While going down to their fourth defeat in their last five starts, the face-setting Red Wings played without such standouts as Red Kelly, Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe.

Sportwriters Divided On Boucher Question

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Did manager Frank Boucher drop New York Rangers' coaching duties of his own volition—as he and the Madison Square Garden management insist—or was he "kicked upstairs?"

Hockey writers appear equally divided on their answers to this question, citing various facts to uphold their arguments.

Those who uphold the "kicked-upstairs" theory present these reasons, with varying emphasis, as the basis of their views:

1. Boucher was too soft on his players.

2. The Rangers are at the bottom of the NHL standing and the Garden management has criticized Boucher for this situation.

3. Lynn Patrick, who takes over as coach is the son of Lester Patrick, vice-president of Madison Square Garden, Ranger owners.

4. Lester and Frank have not spoken to each other, except when necessary, in the last three years.

PRO-ANNOUNCEMENT

Those who reject every hing hut the announced reasons have these facts:

1. The straight forward Boucher's word that the move was his idea and that he picked Lynn personally for the coaching job. Lynn and Frank are close personal friends.

2. The Rangers have not lost any of their last four games.

3. Boucher is the last in the NHL to hold both managing and coaching jobs at one time.

4. The Ranger eight-team farm organization hardly needs supervision, which Boucher will provide in his new position.

Only Barney Journal-American Kremenko, of all the New York writers, gave some credence to both views. But his column was crammed with reasons why Boucher might have been booted upstairs.

Kremenko wrote "there are many who believe the handwriting was on the wall" after the pre-season auto crash which sent four key Ranger players to hospital. There is a strict Garden rule against private auto travel by players during the training period or the regular season. But Boucher had allowed Buddy O'Connor to bring his automobile to the Saranac Lake, N.Y., training camp.

Kremenko also relates a "supposed" incident at the Rangers' Winnipeg training camp three years ago — the first Boucher had handled as manager. Patrick is said to have made some belittling remark to Boucher in response to a question. Boucher has not sought Patrick's advice since, the story goes.

Jim Thomson Globe and Mail Coleman's version of the "no-conversation" piece is that Lester has ignored Frank since moving up to the vice-presidency. But Coleman believes the Frank-Lynn association should be a "happy one."

Leonard (New York Post) Cohen holds with the belief that handling the farm organization and keeping an eye on the Rangers, is a more important job than coaching the Rangers.

Cohen contends that if the reason for the shift were Rangers' poor showing until last week, "I believe Frank is big enough guy to have resigned, rather than remain with the Rangers."

SHAMROCKS LOSE IN VIDEO DEBUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Oakland Oaks defeated San Francisco Shamrocks 3-1 Wednesday night to extend their lead over idle Fresno Falcons for the southern division lead in the Pacific Coast Hockey league.

The game marked the debut into formal telecasting of television station KPIX, San Francisco, first such station in northern California. The contest drew 2,300 fans, many attracted by the region's first actual television show.

Oakland marksmen were Bedard, Fowler and Hayden. 'Bush' Jackson whipped in San Francisco's lone tally.

RCGA Lowers Junior Golf Age

TORONTO, Dec. 23.—(CP)—The Royal Canadian Golf Association said Wednesday that the age limit for next year's Canadian Junior Golf championship would be lowered to 18. Players must be under 19 on the last day of the tournament. It is scheduled to be played in early August at St. John, N.B.

W. T. Hamilton, secretary-treasurer of the association, said a further reduction may be made to conform with United States regulations, where junior players must be 17 or under.

Kryzanowski To Bears In Swap

Singers opened the eight-team Maple Leaf Pee Wee hockey league with a bang Wednesday night when they edged McGregors 3-1. They led 2-1 at the first breather and held their 3-1 margin going into the second last session.

Murray Dea, Leonard Lunde and Frank Lycan split the Singer tallies while Tom Dunnigan chipped in for the McGregor marker. The 12-year-old Lunde, nephew of the late Mel Lunde former city junior, is starting his third year as a pee wee.

Canadian Legion of the Maple Leaf Bantam Hockey league will hold a workout at Eastwood rink tonight from 7 to 8 o'clock. All players and others interested are urged to attend. Coach Bob Stewart will be in charge.

Christiansen Throws Annual Christmas Do

Several dozen of the city's more prominent hockey and basketball players were out in force at the Macdonald hotel Wednesday when businessman-sportsman Jim Christiansen tossed off his annual Christmas party for his Waterloo Motors employes.

Don Stanley, Ab Newsome and Jack Manson, all former Flyers, Harry Allen, leading point getter in northern Alberta intermediate circles last season; Ken Watson, Bill McNally, Ron (I've got so much more than Gregory) Phillips and Eric Paterson were among the pucksters on the premises.

Jack Cossey, Bob Strother, Gordon Pearce and more represented the basketball world as host Christiansen had as special guests the members of his three teams: Mercurys of the Intermediate Hockey league, undefeated Meteors of the City Men's Basketball loop and Maple Leafs, pace-setters along the Junior Hockey front.

In addition members of the press and radio were among the more than 450 in attendance at the banquet-dance.

Host Christiansen welcomed all in enthusiastic style, pointing out at the same time that he had high hopes all his teams would "win city honors . . . might even be heard form across Canada." An outstanding boxer-wrestler in his youth Mr. Christiansen is much more than just a sponsor when it comes to athletics.

Both Mr. Christiansen and his wife were presented with suitable gifts.

Shore Says Players 'Don't Drive Enough'

VANCOUVER, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Are modern hockey players better business men than they are puck men?

Ask Eddie Shore, one of the greatest names in hockey and now an owner of minor league teams, and he'll probably say they are.

In an interview here the one-time great rushing defenceman, who could also bounce opposing forwards with an abandon seldom seen before or since his time, said few minor league hockey players are performing to the best of their ability.

"I don't think they have the guts," was his concise explanation.

"Mr. Hockey" said he has players—some with Springfield of the AHL, some with Fort Worth of the USHL, and some with Oakland of the PCHL—who at times show the kind of stuff that can take them into the National Hockey League.

But, said Shore, they don't show bigtime talent and drive often enough to go to the top.

Roy Wouters Points For Shot at Cerdan's Crown

VANCOUVER, Dec. 23.—(CP)—The pounding fists of a Montreal-born middleweight have aroused a new interest in the fistic game here.

In less than six months, rugged Roy Wouters has risen from an obscure $50 preliminary bout fighter to one of the most talked about main-event battlers along the Pacific Coast.

(Ed. note: Some doubt now exists as to whether or not Wouters won anything, except prestige, possibly, when he decisioned Roddy McDonald in Vancouver a week ago. Question raised concerns McDonald's claim to the title in the first place.)

With his spectular rise, eliminated by winning the western Canada crown here last week, Wouters has revived a game that has been in the doldrums since the slap-happy days of Gordy Wallace, classy Canadian welterweight champion of nearly 15 years ago.

Al Principe, local night club owner and the only promoter now active here, has big plans for the "with-his-head-tucked-underneath-his-arm" fighter.

"Wouters style is such that he won't improve much more," Principe says. "With his head wrapped in his arms, he seldom gets hit—and never very solid.

"Two more fights and he will get a crack at the world's middleweight crown," Principe said.

In his 24 times out Wouters has lost only three fights.

"By next spring I'll have enough money to bring the champion here. The fight will be held outdoors and even if I break even I'll be happy," the promoter said.

The present world middleweight titleholder is Marcel Cerdan of France.

Wouters has defeated a number of highly-touted fighters. Besides his victory over former western Canada champion Roddy MacDonald of Edmonton, he has wins over Billy Corbett of Seattle, Zatt Jackson of Fort Lewis and Eddie Halligan of Spokane.

But the real test of his future will be the January mix with George (Rockabye) Ross of West Bay, N.S., for the Canadian title.

Time Out

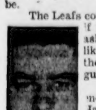
With Dick Beddoes

Rumors Are Flying

It will be denied, but rumors are flying about Edmonton Waterloo Maple Leafs bolstering their roster for a jaunt down hockey's Memorial Cup lane next spring.

Everybody in the know is non-committal. But it could be.

The Leafs could use a couple of heavyweights in defence if they entertain hopes of knocking off Wetaskiwin Juniors, Calgary Buffaloes and the like. But they'll settle for Donald Crough of the South Side, who is a fairly rugged rearguard in general.



Don Crough

Crough isn't enough they say. Not nearly enough. So up front the Leafs would like the Imlay brothers—Don and Lefty— from Canadiana, and big Ken Johannson from the South ... These people seem obviously shy on syllables in their Christian names, are just as obviously stickouts in Mr. Gordon Self's junior league.

Whether South Side and Canadians would part with their hockey ivory to strengthen Leafian aspirations toward a Dominion championship is something else again. The Haleys, Croughs, and Johannsons can come high, even when one is imbued with the Christmas spirit.

It's Worth A Try

In any event Coach Ted Allard has until January 15 to select an all-star team. By that date player registration cards must be filed with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. In the meanwhile it is the concern of the teams in the junior loop. The question: will EAC, Canadians, and South Side supplement the Maple Leafs with talent?

The last time a junior team was 'packed' locally was in 1940. That time the Leafs picked up several stars from the other Edmonton clubs and advanced as far as the western finals before bowing out to Portage La Prairie, eventual Canadian champions.

Maybe the whole thing is a pipe dream. Maybe.

But only Wednesday night Mr. Jim Christiansen, co-sponsor of the Leafs, was heard to say that "we might venture into the Memorial Cup playdowns in the springtime."

Certainly of the four teams here Leafs are best equipped to go after the junior diadem. And with the reserves they are reputed to have their eyes on who knows how far they might go in the championship hunt.

It's worth a try.

Mason And The Middleweights

Ol' Gene Mason went out of town or underground, one and some thing, after his last boxing show. But he popped out of his hole yesterday to say that the recent alleged western middleweight title scrap at Vancouver between Roy Wouters and Rod MacDonald was a "gross misrepresentation."

Mr. Mason contends that MacDonald never had the crown. That would make his observation logical since it's pretty hard to lose something you never owned anyway.

After deducing same Mr. Mason used his typewriting finger (the second on the right hand) to bang out a message to Jack Henderson of the Vancouver Athletic Commission. The message: "Would ask you to rule out the Wouters-MacDonald fight as a title match since Mac had no title to lose."

What ramifications the Mason edict to the coast will have is uncertain. It could mean that Ol' Gene will promote several elimination bouts here to crown a western middleweight champion.

There isn't any doubt about who is the Canadian king of the middles. Everybody recognizes hard-rock Gordon Ross, rough and ready, a customer of strongly homicidal inclinations who can belt you one pretty stiffly.

Things Are Schizoid

But in the west things are, if you'll pardon the expression, schizoid. We are in a grossly comical era in which there are enough claimants to the crown to make up a bridge game—if the boys have nothing else to do.

Wouters claims the title because he beat MacDonald, who had his crown (supposedly) by way of Cliff Beckett. Mr. Beckett had it from Joe Trudeau, who never could exactly explain where he got it, though he was heard to mumble something about Santa Claus on one occasion.

Some of the boys, i.e., Beckett and Trudeau, might have claimed the championship at one time or other, but they never heard of the 160-pound limit for middles. Beckett was a lowly 180 when he fought MacDonald and the last time Trudeau scaled 160 was in his adolescent days.

Charlie Croft, acting secretary of the Western Canadian Boxing Federation, hasn't a clue as to who the champion might be. He does know that promoter Al Principe of Vancouver had no authority from the WCBF for calling the English professional boxer a championship affair.

So you might find that western Canadian middleweight crown anywhere. If it happens to bob up at your regular poker session don't be surprised.

Canuck Puck-Chasers Too Rough for Swiss

ZURICH, Switzerland, Dec. 23. — (CP) — The Zurich Newspaper Neue Zuricher Zeitung Wednesday complained that Canadian hockey players representing the Streatham club of England in the current Swiss hockey tournament play too roughly.

The Canadians defeated the Zurich Skating club 4-3 Tuesday night and the Bern club 12-5 Monday night.

The paper says that the all-Canadian Streatham club played Tuesday night "as if they were in a championship match at the English professional league."

The newspaper concedes that perhaps the Swiss fans booed the Canadians a little too loudly for their robust play but it adds:

"We must state that until today we have never regarded as ice hockey what Streatham showed Tuesday night.

"They have drummed up a number of Canadian woodcutters, fellows bursting with power who certainly understand a great deal about ice skating and handle the puck very cleverly but who unfortunately attempt to make use of their strength in a way which doesn't meet the taste of our public."

McGill Triumphs

BOSTON, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Phil Henry and Tommy Hale each scored three goals and Reggie Sinclair collected two goals and five assists as McGill University of Montreal swamped Harvard 14-0 Wednesday night in an intercollegiate hockey game.

SANTA CLAUS COMES EARLY TO PUNTERS

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Santa Claus arrives early for holders of tickets of Wednesday's daily double at the Fair Grounds, the combination paying $1,010.

Marled, owned by V. L. Creal, won the first race while Donna L. from the barn of H. W. Fry, took the second. Marled paid 21.60, 22.40, and $15.60 in straight betting. Donna L. paid $19.60, $9.20 and $6.40.

Jones Sparkles As Wings Win

Don Jones rattled home four goals Wednesday night to lead Red Wings to a 7-0 victory over Rangers in a Maple Leaf Midget Hockey league game at 101 street rink. The speedy young forward hit for the first three of his team's counters and added the seventh.

Next in line on the goal production department was Charlie Holmes who flashed the light twice, while adding one assist. Benny Stein was responsible fur the other Wing tally.

'Stop Dunc Grant' Is Flyer Aim for Tonight

The all-time goal-getter and current point leader of the Western Canada Hockey league, Calgary's Dunc Grant, comes close to being the 'feature pree-sentation' as Flyers have it out with Stampeders at the Arena tonight.

Latest official figures show the wraith-like left-hander 'off by himself in the scoring derby with 43 points, including 20 goals. In not-so-close pursuit is Colin Kilburn, Flyer rookie, with 34 points, a remarkably fine showing for a first year performer. Regina's Ab McDougall has taken over the third slot of 33 points, one to the good over Flyers' Morey Rimstad and Alec Pringle.

Tonight's Flyer-Stamp tussle might prove one of the high-lights of the season to date. The Calgarians, with such veterans as 'Chuck' Millman and Bunny Dame apparently gradually rounding into shape, lately have been travelling at a good tick, that 4-0 thumping at Lethbridge Tuesday to the contrary. Doug Sairns also has rejoined the former Allan Cup champions since last they showed here.

Flyers workout of Wednesday was curtailed to 45 minutes. Following the drill coach Frank Currie announced that Freddy Smitten, who injured his wrist earlier in the week, would not see action. His place on the line with Elmer Kreller and Pringle will be taken by Bernie Bathgate. Game time is 8.30 o'clock.

O'Connor Is Top Canuck Athlete

Ranger Star, Keith Spaith In Close First Place Duel

TORONTO, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Canadian sports editors thumbed through 1948 records of the Dominion's male athletes and put the finger today on Buddy O'Connor, New York Rangers' centre in the National Hockey league, as the year's outstanding performer.

He won in five points over Keith Spaith, Calgary Stampeders' quarterback.

It was a year in which few individual male athletes stood out—in direct contrast to the international honors swept by Ottawa's Barbara Ann Scott in figure-skating—and this was apparent in the annual year-end Canadian Press poll. Thirty-one editors nominated 31 athletes for the award.

They didn't, however, give a vote to Joe (King) Krol, Toronto Argonauts' great football player who held the title the last two years.

Spaith's first-place duel with Montreal-born O'Connor was one of the closest since the poll was inaugurated 16 years ago.

Editors were asked to name the three outstanding athletes, in order of preference (amateur or professional) and results were tabulated on a 3-2-1 point system. The final reckoning:

EIGHT FIRSTS

O'Connor, 31 points, manufactured by eight firsts, three seconds and one third; Spaith, 26 points, from six firsts, three seconds and two thirds. Another hockey-football-player battle developed for the third slot, ending in a 14-point tie between Syl Apps and Tony (Golden Boy) Golab.

Choice 31-year-old O'Connor was achieved by his season's performance when he won both the Hart (valuable player) and Lady Byng (most gentlemanly player) trophies—the first time a player has taken both the same season.

Just three hours work in the Nov. 27 east-west football final at Toronto shot Spaith into the nation's sports eye. His reputation was established in the west where he won the Jeff Nicklin Memorial trophy as the most valuable player to his team in the Western Inter-Provincial union, but he was a comparative unknown in eastern Canada.

Against the heavily-favored Ottawa Rough Riders, Spaith filled Varsity stadium with awe and played heads-up football. The 24-year-old import completed 11 of 19 passes and his all-round work drew plaudits in Calgary's 12-7 upset victory.

BRODA, LACH ARE CLOSE

Two NHL players, Toronto's Turk Broda and Elmer Lach of Montreal Canadiens, followed Apps and Golab in the balloting. Broda, Vezina trophy winner awarded to the goalkeeper with the season's best goals-against record) polled 12 points and Lach 11.

Boxing honors were Eddie Haddad from Victoria and Lt. Arthur King from Toronto. Haddad, 21-year-old Canadian welterweight champion, picked by the Amateur Athletic Union for the Norton H. Crow Memorial trophy award as the outstanding amateur, received 10 points. King, British Empire lightweight titleholder, polled eight.

Other nominees, with points in brackets:

Football — Playing-coach Lou Lear of Calgary Stampeders (7); playing-coach Frank Filchock of Hamilton Tigers, senior Ontario Rugby Football Union champions (5); Chuck Anderson, Calgary centre (4); Bruce Cummings, Toronto Varsity, and Jack Parry, University of Western Ontario Mustangs in the Senior Intercollegiate Union (3 each); Virgil Wagner, Montreal Alouettes halfback in the Big Four (2); Woody Strode, Calgary end (2).

Hockey — Ted Lindsay, Detroit Red Wings (5); Maurice Richard, Montreal Canadiens (1); Coach Happy Day of Toronto Leafs (3). Phil Samis, Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League (2); Andy Cloverdick, Edmonton Flyers of the Western Canada Senior league (2); George Armstrong of Badminton—Dick Birch, Toronto, Canadian singles champion (1).

Lacrosse—Joe Cheevers, playing coach of Hamilton Tigers, Mann Cup winner (2); Norm Baker, captain of New Westminster Adanacs, Mann Cup finalist and one of Canada's leading basketball players (2).

Gerard Cote, St. Hyacinthe, Que., marathoner who won the outstanding athlete award in 1940, polled three points.

NHL Stars

MONTREAL, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Ed Sandford, Boston rookie, who fired home two goals as Bruins snapped a six-game winless streak with a 5-2 victory over Detroit Red Wings.

MILLS AND NEWMAN IN 'BIG RE-MATCH'

Al Oeming calls it the 'Big Re-match'.

The young wrestling promoter was referring to the Lou Newman-Al (Mr. Murder) Mills match which he has scheduled to headline his card of December 28.

The pair met earlier this week and Newman captured the odd fall in three to cop the duke. Next week the pachyderms will be battling on winner-take-all basis, it should be what that admirable exponent of grappling, Cecil (Tiger) Goldstick, would call a wing-ding.

Also billed to appear on the show are Texas Babe Sharkey, one-time world's champion among heavyweights, and Frank Marconi, from Akron, Ohio.

They're Harmless But They Plan to Howl

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Sudbury Wolves gamboled up Broadway Wednesday night but Thursday they will be howling across the Atlantic in search of the world hockey championship.

The 15 players, a manager-coach and a trainer will sail on the liner Queen Elizabeth for Southampton hoping to bring back to Canada the world championship won last year by the Olympic-winning RCAF Flyers.

"I think our chances are good," said Max Silverman of Sudbury, past president of the Northern Ontario association who leads the party.

SPEAKS WITH AUTHORITY

Silverman can speak with the authority of years of coaching including heading the Sudbury Wolves who won the world championship in 1938.

And his "right hand man," F. W. (Di ty) Moore of Port Colborne, Ont., past president of the Ontario Hockey association, was goaltender of the Canadian Olympic team of 1936 which was beaten out by Britain.

"But we have had only two weeks' practice as a team and some of the chaps have been with us only a week," Silverman added in an interview.

Nevertheless, the Wolves held a North Bay team to a 2-2 tie and lost only 6-3 to the United States world champion entry at Boston last week-end, after spending several days travelling.

The team will play in London, Scotland, Nottingham, Paris and Amsterdam before the championships in the Swedish capital Feb. 11-20, sponsored by the International Ice Hockey Federation, world governing body of the game.

TO PLAY CZECHOSLOVAKIA

After the championships the team will play in Czechoslovakia, Switzerland and Britain before returning to Canada late in April.

Here is the line-up of the team:

Goal—Al Picard, 26, Sudbury, played in Vancouver last year; and Bob Mills, 20, Toronto.

Defence—Joe Terpenen, 21, Gimli, Man., played with Winnipeg Rens; Emile Gagnet, 21, Sudbury; Barney Hillson, 21, Guelph, Ont., and Herb Kewley, 21, Toronto.

Forwards—Ray Bauer, 24, Waterloo, Ont.; Bud Hanbey, 26, Sudbury; Joe Debastiano, 23, Cobalt, Ont.; Albert Rebalati, 20, Sudbury; John Kovich, 20, Schumacher, Ont.; Bill Ilmoch, 23, Trail, B.C., former University of Alberta player; Doug Free, 21, Campbellford, Ont.; and Don Munro, 20, Toronto.

TOJO SETTLES FOR WINE

Japs Pray and Drink On Way to Gallows

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, Dec. 23. — (AP) — Hideki Tojo and three of his six war-maker companions gave lusty "Banzai" shouts before they were hanged in Sugamo prison today.

The last act of defiance by the four of the seven condemned men came in the little Buddhist temple near the death house, Shinso Hall, the priest who attended them, said.

The Banzai cry—which means "Blood for the Emperor"—featured the last charges of many Japanese soldiers in the Second World War. Tojo and his companions also shouted for a greater Nippon before going to the gallows, the priest said.

Tojo, whose military clique plotted and ordered the 1941 Pearl Harbor attack and plunged the half of the world into its greatest war, asked for a drink of sake before he went to his death. But he had to be content with a glass of weak wine, the priest said.

The priest described Tojo and the other three of the first four hanged shortly after midnight as almost jaunty.

Tojo, said the priest, left a message for the world which he was forbidden by occupation authorities to make public.

The former premier also left a poem, which the priest translated roughly:

"It is goodbye
"Over the mountains I go today
"To the bosom of Buddha
"So happy am I."

All seven of the Japanese war leaders grasped wine glasses in their handcuffed hands and swigged a hefty drink before marching to the gallows, the priest said in a press conference after the executions.

Gen. Seisjiro Itagaki, who was hanged for aggression against China, told the priest that he prayed "for the rise and prosperity of China and Korea."

Hanayama said that Tojo raised his Buddha rosary in his left hand above his head in a gesture of prayer when he was informed in the office of the Sugamo commandant yesterday that he would die this morning. Then, said the priest, Tojo mumbled to the commandant in English:

"Okay, okay."

Tojo asked the priest to thank prison officials for his treatment. He ordered a last meal of rice, soy bean soup, broiled fish, coffee, meat and jam, the priest said.

Diplomats Watch Crisis in China

Security Council Position May Be Affected By War

By Max Harrelson

LAKE SUCCESS, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Diplomats here are watching the Chinese crisis closely because of China's important position as a permanent member of the United Nations Security Council.

Any change in China's government may lead to a revision of her foreign policy and that, in turn, may vitally affect the UN.

It is assumed that if China comes under complete Communist domination, she will align herself with Russia.

CHANGES ALIGNMENT

In the Security Council the voting alignment would be 8 to 3 on most questions instead of the customary 9 to 2. There would be two permanent members of the council in the minority instead of one, and each has the veto power.

Russia already is able to thwart a majority decision by the veto—and has done so 29 times—but she would have the moral advantage of having another big power join her in each future veto.

The Soviet bloc also would gain an additional vote in every major organ of the UN because China, as a big power, is widely represented throughout the organization.

There still is the possibility, of course, that China may not come under complete Communist domination.

A coalition government might be formed which would include the Communists but which would not be dominated by them, or the present government might withdraw to Formosa or elsewhere.

In either case, UN legal experts say, the present regime would continue to be recognized here as China's legitimate government. The UN, as in numerous other instances, would regard the civil war in China as an internal problem.

ILS Works Well

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Dec. 23.—(CP)—N. C. Boyles, manager of Kenyon Field airport here, last night said an instrument landing system, installed and tested this week, "works out well" and approval is expected from the Department of Transport sometime this week.

Police Probe East Murder

OTTAWA, Dec. 23.—(CP)—A blood-stained hatchet yesterday was tentatively identified as the weapon responsible for the death of Napoleonas Jonusas, 35-year-old Lithuanian, whose battered body was discovered on a farm here Tuesday.

Inspector Alex MacLeod of the Ontario Provincial Police discarded the possibility of hanging, which he described as a clumsy attempt to make the death appear a suicide.

The body was found in the granary of the farm of Mrs. Annie Baryluk, near Navan, Ont., about 12 miles east of Ottawa. The body was in a sitting position with a rope around the neck. The head was battered and an axe, bearing blood-stains, was found near the body.

FOR AUTOPSY

Dr. Max Klotz, Ottawa Civic Hospital pathologist, tentatively identified the hatchet as the death weapon. The body was taken to Ottawa for a complete autopsy.

Scuff marks on the side of the barn in which Jonusas died indicated someone had climbed through a window 16 feet above the ground.

Mrs. Baryluk, who hired the victim through the National Employment Office a week ago, said she did not think Jonusas, who arrived in Canada in August, knew anyone in the district.

The victim left a widow and two children in a displaced persons camp in Germany. He had hoped to bring them to Canada at a later date.

Platinum was probably brought to Europe in 1741 from Cartagena, Colombia, by a Jamaican assayer.

MRS. MARION BACHRACH of New York City was a new witness called before the Un-American Activities committee in Washington. Mrs. Bachrach, a writer attached to the national office of the Communist party, refused to answer a long list of questions concerning persons named in the spy hearings.

Seaman Arrested On Drug Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23. — (AP)—The arrest of a San Francisco seaman on suspicion of having smuggled approximately $1,000,000 worth of heroin into the United States was announced yesterday by customs collector Paul Leake. Leake identified the man as John Spinale, 22, a seaman on the Pacific Transport Lines Hong Kong transport which docked here about a week ago. The heroin is believed to have been smuggled in from Hong Kong.

Clever Work

TORONTO, Dec. 23.—(CP)—A housebreaker made the mistake of telephoning for a taxi from the home he had just robbed. He left the telephone book open. Police picked a taxi company from the open page, traced a fare which had been picked up at the house, and arrested Fred Siroude, 18. He was charged with theft.

WOMAN OFFERS EYE FOR HOUSE PAYMENT

HAMILTON, Dec. 23.—(CP)—The problem of finding suitable housing accommodation yesterday led Mrs. George Forty to offer one of her eyes for enough money for a down payment on a house.

She and her husband and their four young children have been living in two rooms.

Their troubles increased when one child became ill and had to stay in bed for convalescence after he left the hospital. Then electrical inspectors condemned the wiring in the rooms, raising the possibility that their power would be shut off, the woman said.

"We've nowhere else to go," the woman said. "The only thing to do seems to be to buy a house of our own and we haven't enough money for a down payment."

MAKING SURE they are not forgotten on Christmas, young Billy Nixon and Muriel Barnes give Santa Claus last minute information on "what we want for Christmas." Uranium Finds Revealed In Athabaska District

Uranium finds being controlled by Dominion and Saskatchewan authorities are in the Goldfields area of Lake Athabasca region.

Word of intensive development projects in the area, which lies just across the border from Alberta, has been brought back to Edmonton by men engaged in mining projects in the same region.

Charlie Swenson, an official at Yellowknife Explorers, a diamond drilling firm, said in Edmonton today preparations are being made for large mining projects in the area about seven miles north of the mining town of Goldfields.

AIRPORT IS BUILDING

Major project now under preparation, he said, is an all-weather airport landing strip on one of the most northerly projections of Lake Athabasca.

Mining development is being undertaken by Eldorado, a government-controlled mining company.

Mr. Swenson said regulations have now been eased to allow "free enterprise" prospecting in the area.

The location of the find, he added, is an "open secret" in the north.

SASKATCHEWAN AIDS

He predicted a swift development in the area under a prospecting offer being made by the Saskatchewan provincial government.

They are, he said, financing prospectors and keeping them supplied during the prospecting season in "one of the best deals ever given to prospectors."

Situation of the government project is only a few miles north of a property owned by Nickelson Mines, stock of which took a sharp zoom on the market lately when it was revealed uranium had been discovered on claims owned by them.

Mr. Swenson also said he believed mining of the new Eldorado project will begin during the next summer season.

Santa's Toys Home Made

Home made toys rivalling those from Santas workshop in the North Pole, were featured at the Christmas party held by the Macedonia Lodge at Acadia hall Wednesday night.

In a hall gay with Christmas colors, a party of about 200 parents and children enjoyed a program of movies, the arrival of Santa Claus, and most of all, the distribution of gifts. All home made, they ranged from dolls and doll clothes, cribs and sewing sets, to wagons, sleds and guns.

Supplementary enjoyment was provided by a generous supply of Christmas candy, nuts and dixie cups.

Share Transfers Raise Hockey Ticket Hopes

The largest share transfer list in the recent history of the Edmonton Exhibition Association was approved Tuesday at a special meeting of the association's directors held in the council chamber, Civic Block.

Several of the transfers result from the death of holders of shares in the association, and others are to persons purchasing from inactive shareholders to enable them to take part in furthering the welfare of the association.

Some were made in the forlorn hope the possession of a share in the association would enable the buyer to obtain an option to purchase hockey tickets.

The shares are of $5 value, and give holders the right to vote at meetings of shareholders.

The Edmonton Exhibition Association is a non-profit organization so there are no dividends paid on the shares.

Shares in the association were transferred to Murray Hamilton, Gordon Steeves, W. J. Hosford, E. I. Clarke, Jr., Burrows Motors Ltd., Matthew Gibb, R. P. Gibb, A. M. Allen, W. B. Dreyer, N. L. Chapman, Madame Marie Lambert, Oliver G. Kelly, Samuel Robinson, R. G. McDiarmaid, Harry Hole, B. Runnells and Lou Davidson.

Special committee of the directorate have 14 other share transfers under consideration.

PLANE GRAZES AUTO, AIRMAN IS UNINJURED

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 23 — (AP)—A pilot walked away with minor injuries after his fighter plane grazed an automobile and then crashed onto a runway at Stout Field yesterday, but three women and seven children in the car were hurt.

A policeman said he saw the F-51 Mustang flown by Lieut. Victor Kelly clip a tree-top as it came in for a landing, graze the automobile top, hit a fence and catch fire. The plane was demolished.

Kelly scrambled out of the wreckage. Later he was treated for shock.

U.S. Approves Water Diversion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(CP)—The United States department today announced it has approved an Ontario plan for diversion of water from the Welland canal to help meet the province's power shortage.

More diversion will be used to step up the output of the big hydro-electric plant at Decew, near St. Catharines, Ont.

The diversion will apply only during the winter months when the canal is not used by Great Lakes ships.

Because the United States shares jurisdiction over Welland canal waters, American approval was required.

LIONS OUTROARED BY CUBS AT PARTY

With a roar that did justice to the sponsor, 125 happy children whooped it up Wednesday afternoon at the Lions Club annual Christmas party in the Masonic Temple.

From 4:30 p.m. until 7:00 p.m., the youngsters were caught up in a whirl of excitement that included:

Moving pictures, three short stage plays, all the goodies they could eat, and of course, Santa Claus, Doug (Happy) Thompson, with a sackful of gifts.

Master of ceremonies was activity committee chairman Morris McNair.

A buffet supper was served, but was partaken mainly by the parents—too many little tummies were already stuffed.

Greetings Transcribed

Modern twist was given to Christmas greetings by Mayor Percy George of Victoria, B.C.

Wednesday Mayor Harry Ainlay received a shiny red paper phonograph record from the Victoria mayor which expressed the hope that all rededicate themselves to the cause of peace and goodwill on earth.

The record carried the names of Victoria's 10 aldermen who were associated with Mayor George in sending out the greeting.

Player arm on Mayor Ainlay's machine was too heavy to reproduce the record, and Mayor Watson of Calgary had to supply the translation for his Edmonton confrere.

Amputee Cleric Sets Two Records

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Dec. 23—(CP)—Rev. J. Frank Ward, pastor of Broderick Memorial Baptist church, set two records yesterday when he successfully qualified for his private pilot's license. He became the first clergyman in this district and the first amputee in western Ontario to obtain private flying papers. He lost his left leg in a 1931 accident.

Super Shopper Purchases Gifts for 1,100 at Once

Ever try buying Christmas gifts for 1,100 children?

To most harried Christmas shoppers this sounds like an almost impossible task, particularly when they recall the trouble they had trying to make a few selections for Junior.

However, to Mrs. Lois Cormack it is just another routine task in her day's work.

Mrs. Cormack is a personal shopper for one of Edmonton's large department stores and as such she spends most of the Christmas season shopping for others.

ARABIA AND CHINA

Among the dozens of requests that are received daily, both from out of town customers, local business men and people who just can't make up their minds, come requests from such far-away places as Arabia, China and Poland.

One order received from an employe of an oil company in Arabia directed that a set of blankets, two bedspreads and a set of dishes be sent to Mr. and Mrs. St. Germain. "We would be very happy to oblige," said Mrs. Cormack, "only he forgot to mention where these people live."

Then there was the classic received from an expectant father. "Baby Robert being born Christmas day, please buy gift."

30 TO 40 A DAY

During the Christmas shopping season Mrs. Cormack's daily purchases total about 30 and some times 40 gifts a day. To the average shopper this would seem to be a large order, but some orders, such as those received from schools and church organizations require a weeks work by one or more personal shoppers. The latest such one was received from the Edmonton RCAF station and requested presents for 1,100 children ranging in age from one month to 15 years.

Mrs. Cormack finds that people this year are spending much more money than they did last year. However this cannot be said of the principal of an outlying school, who wrote requesting, possibly through an oversight, that gifts be purchased for 40 children, at not more than 25c for the lot.

Men are the easiest to shop for, they are not so liable to change their minds after a gift has been decided on, said Mrs. Cormack.

Quized about her own shopping, Mrs. Cormack said: Heavens, I haven't even thought of it yet.

BUREAU JUST $10,000,000 OUT

OTTAWA, Dec. 23.—(CP)—A little harried by the Christmas rush, the Bureau of Statistics admitted today it was $10,000,000 out in one of its figures.

A slight slip in its checking made the bureau's 1947 report on the value of chocolate bars made in Canada read $11,126,201 it should have been $21,126,201.

"Somebody," a bureau official said simply, "hit a one instead of a two."

Table-Waiting Heiress Is Given Plenty Of 'Help'

WINNIPEG, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Miss Margaret Laxdahl, 69-year-old waitress who inherits the bulk of a $250,000 estate, is still being swamped with letters from helpful persons suggesting how she might use her money.

The letters, from every state in the U.S. and every province in Canada, have even contained a proposal of marriage. It came from a 36-year-old Montreal dentist in a 14-page letter telling how he preferred an older woman for a "multitude of reasons."

Other letters have come from Puerto Rica, Germany and Iceland since the will was disclosed in 1947.

A claim to the estate, left by Thomas B. Campbell, 77-year-old eye drop fisherman, was denied last Tuesday by a Minneapolis judge, following nearly two years of litigation in Minnesota courts. Mr. Campbell died in June, 1946.

Christmas Dinner Set

A Christmas dinner for Alberta pioneers will be held Christmas eve at the Blakemore Nursing Home at 9820 108 street.

Forty-two guests are expected to attend the affair, at which there will be gifts and caroling. The Salvation Army Band will also attend.

Administration Of New Guinea Will Be Probed

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 23—(CP)—The federal government will order a royal commission to investigate the administration of New Guinea by External Territories Minister Edward J. Ward, it was learned here today.

Ward asked Prime Minister Chifley today to hold the commission on the widest possible terms to allow him to answer allegations on the integrity of his administration.

His request follows yesterday's acquittal of three men on charges of conspiracy to defraud the Brisbane timber firm of Hancock and Gore out of $160,000 by selling them the timber lease of Bulolo valley, New Guinea.

Ward vigorously denied all knowledge of the deal. It was understood Ward has been relieved of his cabinet post which will be taken over by army minister Cyril Chambers.

SCENE OF THE NATIVITY in miniature fascinates children of the congregation of St. Stephen's Anglican church in Edmonton as they recall the wondrous story from their Sunday School lessons. Scenes such as this are being re-enacted everywhere as the world pauses in its faltering stride to pay homage to the Prince of Peace, and to renew its contact with one of the well-springs of our civilization. —Photo by Bland.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Still Shopping For Those Last Gifts

By Bea Thrifty

I should be ashamed of myself. And I am.

I tour the shops every day . . . and I still have some of my shopping to do.

There is too much of everything and none of what you're searching so frantically for.

As a matter of fact I spend so much of my time downtown I have to depend solely on my pressure cooker for meals.

• • •

Besides doing all the marvellous speed cookery for which you usually use your pressure cooker, don't forget that it's also a good extra pot in the kitchen.

Leave the gauge off . . . or don't put down the pressure . . . and you'll find it to be one of the most useful utensils in the kitchen.

• • •

Because it has almost an air-tight cover, you can keep foods hot in it for a long time, with very little fuel and no danger of them burning dry. French fries are crisp and tasty and not too greasy.

For these put a couple of tablespoons of fat in the bottom of the cooker, get it very hot, drop your dry cut-up spuds in and seal the lid (but don't use the pressure).

Cook over a hot fire for a couple of minutes, open up the cooker, stir with a wooden spoon and turn the potatoes, seal again and cook for a couple of minutes longer.

Mmm-mmm!

• • •

Then if you have pastry turnovers or scones to cook, use the heavy aluminum pressure pot for this. Grease the bottom, put your scones or pastry right on the bottom ,seal the cooker (no pressure this time either), cook over low heat for a few minutes until the bottom is brown, open the cooker, turn, and finish the cooking by browning on the other side.

And of course this leads up to word about the wonderful pressure cookery book being sold in the Edmonton Bulletin office for 35c.

Buy one and try one. I use it all the time and there are the most amazing goodies in its pages.

As a matter of fact I'm adding one to my mother's Christmas box

• • •

Those big, bright shiny balls are here aplenty once more after many years of doing without them. Shaped like silver tops, painted with bright stripes, or with multi-colored faces, they come in all sizes and sell for anywhere from two for a nickel to a quarter apiece.

In the same fragile material come blue and gold bells, large and gleamy, which fasten on with those handy plastic or metal ornament hooks.

Ornaments in plastic and pipe-cleaner material are handy if you have children at the break-everything-in-sight stage, but they're not nearly so pretty on the tree. However, they are bright and practical, and are certainly less expensive if your kiddies are apt to be destructive.

Th..se little pipe cleaner candy canes, striped red and white, are cute for the youngsters. Pretty too, are the red and yellow plastic stars to hang on the ends of your branches.

Just because it's too cold to swim out-of-doors, you don't have to give it up completely. You can practice the breast stroke right in your own home and accomplish wonders for your posture.

WHY GROW OLD

Exercise Stimulates Healthy Complexion

By Josephine Lowman

Most women are much more active physically in the summer time than during winter months. When the first cold wind blows they hibernate like a bear, but unlike a bear, they keep on eating. The results are sometimes pretty awful!

Our health and our figures suffer too little exercise. Brisk walking in cold weather is fine energy insurance. If your health is up to par and you are well wrapped up, daily walks may keep some of those colds away from your door rather than promote them. Some physicians feel that coddling in overheated rooms, with no outdoor life in brisk weather, makes us more susceptible to the sniffles. If the day is rainy, do your walking in the house.

You can make a splendid exercise out of walking in place. When you do this keep your back straight and lift your knees up high in front of you as you walk in place.

Every woman needs exercise in the winter to compensate for lack of summer sports. You can do the arm movement of the breast stroke with great advantage to posture. Raise your arms forward, shoulder height, palms facing each other. Now turn the palms back and move the arms to side-wise position, as though you were pushing the water, arms still shoulder height. Repeat this 15 or 20 times.

If you will do these two exercises on bad days and add an abdominal exercise or so, and one for the hips ,or your figure's sake, you will have some competent exercises for the sports you miss and the walks which sleet and rain make impossible.

Along with the compensating exercises remember your cod liver oil to make up for the sunshine you miss and give your complexion special treatment for the drying effects of cold weather and wind. There are splendid preparations especially planned for winter dryness.

If you would like to have my facial exercises, which are good in any weather, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 9 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

This Is the Season For Too Many Sweets

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Traditionally, this is the season for sweets in abundance. Years ago the Christmas stocking always carried an orange and an apple in the toe, then nuts and hard candies above. But, today, none of these is an especial treat. Oranges are an everyday food for most children and candy an everyday experience.

But we do have to insure that sweets are not eaten to the point of misery when there are sure to be so many to be had, not only candy but cakes, cookies, puddings, ple, all the good things we associate with the holiday.

Every author on nutrition has exactly the same thing to say about candy. It is delightful to the taste and almost universally liked by children. If given between meals it spoils the child's appetite for such bland foods as milk and vegetables. It provides lots of nourishment in the form of carbohydrates and fats, but is lacking in protein, minerals and vitamins.

Chocolate, however, "pure", is one of those foods toward which many persons are allergic. It is very rich because of its high fat content and, because nuts are not easy for children to chew, they also slow up the digestion.

Plain candies can be eaten at the end of a meal without great harm to the child. In fact, a piece or two of candy can take the place of the usual dessert. The teeth should be cleaned promptly as candy has long been blamed for the tooth decay to which children are prone.

Used thus wisely candy can be a delightful addition to a wholesome plain diet.

Our leaflet No. 33 "Desirable Sweets for Children", may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Like oysters on the half shell? A new household oyster opener now permits you to keep oysters alive and fresh until the moment you want to serve them.

This latest mechanical kitchen help holds the oyster firmly and slides a blade between upper and lower shells to separate them neatly and cleanly, without injuring the meat.

It is expected that the Netherlands will have a total of 500 coasting vessels by 1950.

FOR FRIDAY, DEC. 24, 1948.

This Is Your Christmas Eve Blessings!

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Renew the principles of this hallowed day. Do not permit self to routine merely. This is an age of specialties, but do we all specialize in essentials for our social? Show extended hand.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Acting on the basis of luck or a hit-and-miss attitude is wrong any day. Promote good will, don't seek ONLY your way for lasting progress and happiness. Reflect upon Christmas meaning.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—The fortunes of God's many and great blessings shines on your worthy self. Take things step by step in sensible thoughtful manner. Request favor kindly, not commandingly.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer)—Any attempt to gain without fair purpose will result in remorse, disfavor. Don't be out of line with those around you or you will incur needless opposition. Prayer for inner peace.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Keep an overall optimistic attitude. Excellent advantages now and in days ahead. Refuse to be drawn to wrong side in action or thought. Avoid pessimism. Pray for true guidance.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Propitious for helpers, those who really try to understand others and their rights. Don't listen to idlers, dissenters; they do no good. Heart interests should be happy.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Harken to the holy and unselfish thoughts of Christmas. Have tolerance, try to help those who are biased, jealous, moody. Let your natural goodness guide you.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Review year honestly—many little things done better would have prevented needless error, misunderstanding. It is never too late to alter method. Faith, prayer and humor can help.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Favorable day for the honest thinker and TODAY'S matters—in home, family interests and church services. Prepare your spirit for the true season of Christmas; be charitable, happy.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Grand influences for humanity's interests, spiritual truths, worthy social gatherings, family reunions. Pray, reflect on DIVINITY clearly to us. Don't let impatience spoil things.

January 22 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Encouraging if you are in good grace with God and fellowmen. Know how to enjoy this season. Think of the birth of Christ. How the need was enough to die for us, that we might rise from sin.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Today's first needs: tolerance, humility, good cheer. Decidedly happy, wholesome, happy day. Family and home matters favored. Start Christmas thoughtfully for Christmas.

You Born Today have good qualities; studious, serious, will appreciate humor too. Wholesome recreation and good health are assets—indulge them often. Can succeed in trade or profession. Could become a dentist, surgeon religious missionary. Be unselfish, but don't permit desire for worldly gains or fame to smother spiritual development. The world sorely needs religion. January and May through September, 1949, especially advantageous. Avoid uselessly venturesome. Birthdate—St. Francis Loyola, founder of the Jesuit Order; Matthew Arnold, English poet.

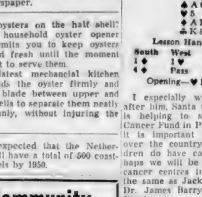
Stripping Out Hand Assures Contract

By William E. McKenney

Dear Santa Claus: Today I am asking you to look after the stocking of John A. Barry, of Pittsburgh, Pa. However, I imagine that he is pretty well known to you for the good work that he has accomplished. Jack is never too busy with his big restaurant to give a helping hand where it is needed.



Lesson Hand—Both vul.

Pass	3♠	Pass	Pass

I especially want you to look after him, Santa Claus, because he is helping to start a Children's Cancer Fund in Pittsburgh. I think it is important that mothers all over the country know that children do have cancer. Then perhaps we will be able to establish cancer centres in different cities, the same as Jack and his brother, Dr. James Barry, are starting in Pittsburgh.

Jack takes an active part in the national bridge organization, and he has given us our lesson hand for today. It combines stripping a hand out, and then making a safety play.

Jack (South) lost the opening lead of the king of hearts, but when West continued a heart, he trumped that trick with the six of diamonds. Now he took two rounds of diamonds, cashed the ace of spades, led the small spade to dummy's king and ruffed the four of spades in his own hand.

Next he led the deuce of clubs. West played the five and Jack put on the three-spot from dummy. East won the trick with the ten. He had nothing to return except a spade or a heart, which meant that Jack could discard one of his clubs, and trump the suit led by East in dummy.

Thus, by stripping the hand out and then making a safety play in clubs, he assured himself of his contract.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Hard to Forgive And Forget Woman's Past

DEAR MISS DIX—I am in love with a woman who, in her early youth, took the wrong turn in the road.

She has repented of her mistake and I believe will go straight in the future.

I am willing to forgive and forget. Do you think we can be happy together?

Answer: If you can really forget. That's the trouble with men. Before marriage they think they can forgive and forget, but in reality they do neither, and after marriage in every time of domestic stress they make of the woman's past a whip with which to lash her.

It seems to me the cruelest, the most ungenerous and the most unjust thing a man can do.

Because, after all, the man has married the woman of his own free will and accord. She has not deceived him.

He knew all about her bedraggled skirts, and if he married her he washed her slate clean so far as he was concerned, and by every law of sportsmanship he has no right to reproach her with the fault he has condoned.

Yet few men are big enough to do this. Ninety-nine men out of a hundred who marry women with a past revile them with it and insult them with it every time they get angry, and this shows what a rankling sore it is in the husband's memory.

For this reason it is always dangerous for a woman with a past to marry because, although her husband may say he forgives her, he never forgets it.

UP TO MAN

The woman who has stumbled off of the straight and narrow path and who has repented of her wrongdoing often makes the most circumspect, the truest and best of wives, and there is no reason why a man should not be happy with her if he can overlook the false step she has made.

New-Fangled Fripperies Steal Xmas Tree Show

Cranberries and popcorn are losing out to cellophane and plastic when it comes to decorating the Christmas tree.

More sparkling novelties than ever before are on the decoration market. And some of the most effective decorating ideas are those you can fix at home.

The tree doesn't need to be stuck with all the old ornaments that are stored in the attic from year to year. The new ideas are priced low enough to give the family tree a new look without cutting into the gift budget.

For instance, tinsel and red ribbon tied together into perky bows give color during the day and sparkle at night. The bows can be tied on the tree, or secured to the branches with red or green string.

Plastic snowflakes in various sizes and intricate, cut-out patterns are on sale this year. They catch the gleam of the tree lights and give out a colorful sparkle.

Another decoration idea requires nothing more than some pine cones and a little paint. The pine cones can be dipped in aluminum or gold paint . . . or brushed lightly with gay colors. A string secured near the bottom of each can be tied around a branch so the brightly-painted pine cones are held upright.

Decorating a Christmas tree is a talent most people grow up with. From the first time they're allowed to help their parents hang the tinsel and ornaments, they've had some part in the decorating each year.

Yet one manufacturer of Christmas tree lights has put out a decoration pamphlet which includes a little basic information about a tree. The booklet suggests starting at the top, with the topmost ornament going on first, then add the three lights, working from top to bottom.

If the tree sits in the centre of the room, you can work your way downward in a circle. But if it's backed into a corner, the light bulbs can be strung back and forth across the front.

Round light bulbs and novelty "bubble lights" have been added to the traditional candle-shaped bulb, but the manufacturers say most families still prefer the candle-shaped bulbs.

Author Fed Up With Codfish

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 23.—(CP)—Betty Burton says she knows 1,052 ways to prepare codfish.

She's fed up with codfish.

The author expressed her opinion of codfish in an interview in which she praised Canada's generosity in responding to appeals for food in Britain. The worst part about Britons' meagre rations was planning meals to provide variety, and "I never ate codfish again if it will be too soon."

She added:

"I don't think anyone in Canada can realize how much food parcels mean to the people in England.

"The Canadian people gave more per capita to England than any other country, and make no mistake, the English people are conscious of this."

Miss Burton, spending Christmas with her parents here, has written six novels under the pen names of Elizabeth Burton and Susan Kerby. She regards her last, "Mr. Kronion," as her best. It will be published in June.

Her other works are "Cling to Her Wailing," "Twilight at Frascal," "Miss Carter and the Ifrit," "Fortune's Gift," and "The Roaring Dove."

Even good-wearing leather may tear under strain and a small rip can quickly become a major tear unless it is repaired immediately.

HOLIDAY MEALS can be gala occasions if leftovers from Christmas are used to advantage. Ham can be mixed with cheese, with chicken, with potatoes. Imagination can be your main asset in planning seasonal menus.

Salad Ideas Pep Up Your Christmas Parties

If you're looking for a builder-upper for Christmas menus, salads rate an A-plus.

That "rabbit fodder," scorned by our fathers, has become a part of the Canadian way of life at the table. Sometimes the salads are just greens, lettuce (torn apart), parsley, fragrant chives, shredded cabbage—any greens you can find.

If you've curry for dinner, add fresh fruit to your salad-bowl combination. Orange sections, or diced pineapple maybe, or a few sliced peaches. A sprinkle of anise seed for the guess-again note

After a chicken dinner, bring on a green salad glinting the apricot's gold, two halves for a portion. Add a half cup of grated coconut French dressing as usual, but slightly sweetened with the apricot's juice. Green salad tagging a roast is made extra special when tossed with halved grapes, seeds out, of course.

Almost any vegetable is a mixmate with greens. Ever add thinly sliced unco mushrooms marinated in zesty sauce? Or ripe olives sliced provide rich interest. Other ideas are quarters of tomato to follow Friday's fried-fish platter Flowerettes of fresh cauliflower bloom amid the green, like pale wood flowers of spring.

Introduce cold cuts to the salad bowl. Diced liverwurst, or spicy salami tossed with the greenery gives something hearty to chew.

It's an Italian dinner when spaghetti and meat balls share menu honors with a green salad hiding small cuts of the anchovy.

If your main course is on the light side, add cheese to the salad; small cuts of sharp cheddar or tiny balls of cottage cheese rolled in chopped mint.

TOMATO ASPIC SALAD
(Our Favorite Gelatine Salad)

1 package lemon or granulated gelatine; juice of 1 lemon; 2 cups boiling tomato juice; Worcestershire sauce; 1 teaspoon salt; 1-8 teaspoon white pepper; bay leaves; whole cloves; ¼ teaspoon onion salt; ¼ teaspoon celery salt; 2 tablespoons vinegar; ½ cup celery; ½ cup pickle; ¼ cup stuffed green olives;

Tomato juice used may be the canned tomatoes strained or the regular tomato juice. Put seasonings in a bag, cloves, bay leaf, peppercorns, etc., and allow tomato juice and other seasonings listed to boil. To be tasty season very highly. Remove bag of seasonings Pour hot juice over gelatine and allow to cool. When slightly thickened fold in celery, pickles and olives. Pimiento, asparagus tips, peppers, cabbage, diced meat or fish may also be added. Turn molds and chill. This may also be molded in a ring and the centre filled with minced crab or chicken mixed with mayonnaise and celery.

• • •

PANDORA'S BOX
(Serve when rather substantial refreshments are wanted)

1 cup celery, 1 cup chicken or sea food, seasonings, lemon juice to taste, mayonnaise.

Combine equal parts of finely chopped celery and chopped chicken or sea food, adding salt, pepper and lemon juice to taste and mayonnaise to moisten. Arrange a long roll (like a wiener roll) on a large lettuce leaf. Slice them almost off (not quite) so that it opens like a hinged box. Butter inside of the roll top; scoop out some of bread from inside lower portion and line with lettuce. On this head the salad, garnish with mayonnaise, a sprinkle of paprika, parsley or pimiento strips. Salad should look like an overflowing box with raised lid. Garnish with olives at side of roll. This is served with a salad fork, but the top is torn off and eaten as bread.

• • •

HOSTESS SALAD
(A grand salad for a party)

1 cup chicken, 1 cup nuts, 1 cup celery, 1 red pepper or pimiento, mayonnaise.

Marinate chicken and walnuts in a little French dressing. Remove marinated chicken; add celery and mix with mayonnaise. Season with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Garnish with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce. Nice way for serving: Make cracker boxes by taking four square or oblong crackers, dip the ends in sugar syrup and press them lightly together. Tie with ribbon is desired. Fill with chicken salad.

• • •

BRIDGE SALAD
(Correct to Serve only at Bridge Parties)

One cup crushed pineapple, or other fruit; 2 packages red flavored gelatine; 2 cups boiling water; 2 cups cold water; 1 pound moist cottage cheese; 1 envelope granulated gelatine; whipped cream; mayonnaise.

Heat the pineapple and juice to the boiling point. Pour over the granulated gelatine which has been dissolved in a little cold water. Prepare the red, flavored gelatine as instructed on the box. Add cottage cheese to the pineapple mixture and pour into a shallow pan to a depth of about one inch. Allow to set until entirely firm. Then over this carefully pour cooled red gelatine. Chill thoroughly, cut in card emblems, using deep bridge-set sandwich cutters. Remove the individual servings with a spatula. Arrange on bed of crisp lettuce; pass whipped cream and mayonnaise mixed together. Serve 12.

• • •

Cold Turkey Can Be Made Culinary Asset

Appetizing Dishes Concocted From Christmas Dinner Tag Ends

By Jane Scott

Come Sunday, many a housewife will be gazing despairingly at the cold turkey carcass in the refrigerator, and wondering what on earth to do with it.

Seems odd to be talking about left-over turkey before anyone has even sunk a molar into that delicious Christmas bird, but all home-makers will find it handy to have a few recipes for the after-Christmas meals.

Not to mention the tag end of that ham, which was your pride and joy a few days ago, but which now seems good only for sandwiches.

Don't give up, gals! Those depressing remembrances of Christmas feasting can be used to concoct appetizing dishes for holiday meals. Casseroles, loaves, salads, soups can make wonderful main dishes for family or company buffet suppers.

• • •

For the buffet supper, here's the menu: Almond chicken with fried noodles, mixed green salad, ripe olives, hot rolls, cranberry sherbet and holiday cookies.

CHICKEN OR TURKEY SALAD

Cut into neat dice and measure 2 cups of cold chicken or turkey. Sprinkle with French dressing and let stand one hour. Add 1 to 2 cups finely cut celery, 1½ tablespoons each of finely chopped green pepper and pimento, 1/3 cup browned, chopped almonds. Mix lightly with thick salad dressing to moisten Taste, and season if necessary, with salt and pepper. Add if desired 1 cup of drained, diced, cooked pineapple.

Toss salad together very lightly, then heap into crisp lettuce cups. Garnish with cress or parsley and serve with cranberry jelly and salad dressing.

USAF To Try Glider Rescue Of 11 Airmen

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Dec. 23.—(CP)—A second glider attempt to rescue 11 men marooned on an 8,000-foot Greenland ice-cap will be made shortly, the United States Air Force said yesterday.

(At Washington, Air Headquarters said three more rescue planes—one of them equipped with skis and rocket motors for takeoffs—have arrived at United States air bases in Greenland for the renewed effort.)

Officials said arrangements are going ahead to drop a Christmas dinner to the men, just in case they don't get out before Saturday.

Seven of the airmen crash-landed their Dakota aircraft on the plateau in soupy weather Dec. 9. Later, a B17 fortress nosedived into a snowbank on a rescue attempt but its two-man crew escaped injury. The other two were in a rescue glider which snapped its tow-line on take-off.

WEATHER IMPROVES

Weather conditions over the area, poor for some days, have improved and more food was parachuted to the men yesterday. A plywood shelter and an oil stove were dropped earlier.

The air force said if the second glider attempt fails, a twin engined C-47 equipped with skis would attempt a landing on the ice cap.

Rescuers—based at Narsarssuak 100 miles away—have postponed operations this week due to high winds raking the expanse of ice and snow.

BABY SITTERS AT A PREMIUM

CALGARY, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Baby sitters in Calgary are at a premium. And some of the premiums are pretty high for the New Year's Eve sessions.

The Calgary baby sitting bureau said yesterday they were booked solid for both Christmas and New Year's Eve. Although the bureau is retaining its normal charge of 50 cents an hour for sitting, a number of independent sitters are reported charging as much as $10 for sitting with children New Year's Eve.

"I'm now a very old party. I've retired from the ranks of professional authors."

From now on, he said, he will write "essays and things like that—literary criticism and about life in general."

Chinese War Slows Down

By TOM LAMBERT

NANKING, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Bad weather slowed action on the great Chinese civil war front today.

The quiet was taken in some quarters to mean that peace-feelers had been put out to the Communists by members of Premier Sun Fo's newly-formed cabinet. But there was no official word from any source.

At least two of the cabinet ministers, former premier Chang Chun and Wong Wen-Hao, commander of the northwest headquarters, are known to favor a quick peace with the reds, who have overrun almost half of China.

Premier Sun described the cabinet members as men who would "fight on until we can secure an honorable peace." This was widely taken to mean the government is warm to negotiations with the Communists despite their insistence a peace can be achieved only if President Chiang Kai-Shek steps out. However, Chiang has not so much as hinted he will move aside.

Dispatches from the Pengpu front northeast of Nanking merely mentioned continued red attacks "toward Pengpu," which presumably still was in government hands.

Island Builders Back To Work After 16 Days

VICTORIA, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Strike of 800 Victoria carpenters, begun Dec. 6 for a 15-cent-an-hour boost, ended yesterday and work on projects totalling several million dollars will be resumed today.

A new agreement will be signed with contractors, or amendments to the existing agreement inserted, union officials said. The new rate will be $1.55 an hour.

Contractors agreed to the increase on condition that no trade rules or working conditions be imposed on union men without approval of the Victoria Builders Exchange; that neither the union nor its members shall have to right to enter into jurisdictional disputes and where disputes arise as to which trades shall carry out certain work, final decision to rest with the builders' Exchange.

Union leaders termed the suggested changes "unconstitutional" and "out of the question," and further negotiations will be held to iron out the contentious matters.

The strike was the culmination of many weeks of negotiations, two conciliation boards failing to bring the disputing parties to agreement.

7 Winnipeg Tots Die In 10 Days From Asphyxia

WINNIPEG, Dec. 23.—(CP)—The deaths of seven babies in the greater Winnipeg area from asphyxia in the last 10 days were described today as "alarming, exceptional and the most in such a short time in recent years," by Pro[illegible] H. O. Fraser.

Dr. Fraser said many mothers were not aware of the danger of bundling their infants in too many clothes during the cold winter weather. Bedclothes and the breathing of food into the lungs also were factors. So far this year about 15 babies had died in this way. There were 30 such deaths last year.

OIL

Redwater No. 4 To Be Acidized

By Harlo Jones

An increase in the production rate if Imperial Redwater 4 will be sought by Imperial Oil Limited through an acidizing process. About 20,000 gallons of acid are expected to go down the hole today and a material increase in production is expected.

Results from the acid treatment are expected to approximate those at the number 1 well which gave a flow of 500 barrels a day before, and 1,700 barrels a day after, acidization. Present rate of flow of the number 4 well is about 11 barrels per hour.

Six eastern Canadian companies will enter the Alberta oil exploration field with 189,000 acres of reserves in the Saint Paul area. The companies are Shaw Pete, 50 per cent; Hugh Malartic, 12½ per cent; Citralam, 12½ per cent; Lingnor, 10 per cent; New Pacalta, 10 per cent, and Bristol, 5 per cent.

Their first well, spudded December 11 on lsd 13 10-58-8w4th is now drilling at about 1,700 feet and is the first of five planned for this area.

Hard luck is still dogging the Hanna 3 attempt which was to swab into production Wednesday. Reports today indicated the swab became stuck on a faulty joint at a depth of about 1,500 feet and tubing will have to be pulled and the joint replaced before the well can go on production.

West Oil Issues Advance Sharply

Anglo-Canadian At New High; Industrials, Metals Also Gain

TORONTO, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Western oils climbed briskly ahead on the Toronto Stock Exchange today as trading slowly increased. Industrials held steady in dull pre-Christmas action and golds and base metals brightened slightly. Volume was about 80,000 shares.

Western oils showed an almost complete list of strong gainers following news of three new wells in the Leduc, Alta., field. Anglo-Canadian climbed to a new high in brisk action and Okalta, Calgary and Edmonton, Pacific Petroleum and Atlantic oil were ahead 5 to 30 cents Home Oil added a fraction.

Canadian Vickers held the spotlight in an otherwise dull industrial board. The stock touched a new high at $71. Foods were weaker and a few utilities strengthened fractionally. International Petroleum sagged in refining oils and Walker's was ahead in the liquor list.

CALGARY OILS GAIN IN BRISK TRADING

CALGARY, Dec. 23.—Trading was unusually brisk on Calgary Exchange today and volume reached 305,710, with nearly all issues scoring advances. Anglo-Canadian was 10 cents ahead at $4.70 and Pacific Pete climbed to $2.95. Princess sold 15,800 and closed at 37 cents, a gain of two.

Chicago Grain Moves Ahead

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Although the grain market was quiet today, it turned in some fair-sized gains in wheat, corn and oats. At times prices were up a cent as a small run of buying orders had more influence than would have been the case in a normally active market.

Three items spurred the buying: More statements by congressmen favoring revision of the present farm support program, announcement by the Economic Co-Operation Administration of additional funds for wheat and corn exports, and a boost in the government buying price for corn.

Wheat closed 1⅛-2⅛ higher, May $2.28½-¼. Corn was ⅝-1¼ higher, May $1.47⅞-1.48. Oats were 1 to 1⅛ higher, May 78¼-⅜. Rye was 2⅛ higher, May $2.72½.

Close:

Wheat — May 2.28½-¼; July 2.09¾-10; Sept. 2.09⅞.

Corn—May 1.47⅞-48; July 1.46½; Sept. 1.40⅞-41.

Oats—May 78¼-⅜; July 73¼; Sept. 71.

Rye—May 1.72½; Sept. 1.48.

Cash wheat: none. Corn: No. 4 mixed 1.40.

Oats and Barley Gain With Better Support

WINNIPEG, Dec 23—(CP)—The United Kingdom was allocated 1,200,000 bushels of wheat under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. A cargo of 350,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was sold to Switzerland overnight.

Winnipeg coarse grains futures showed a firm trend due to light offerings, rather than any aggressive buying. Shippers and processors supported both oats and barley with commission houses the best buyers in rye. Occasional shipper orders also came into rye.

Some American selling was absorbed in all three grains. May flax turned up a light trade with elevators on the buying side.

Prices of class two wheat dropped one cent.

'48 DEMAND UNPRECEDENTED

Increased Production Eases Oil Situation

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The 1949 problems of the United States oil industry won't have a new look, but 1948's accomplishments will have eased the pressure.

A year ago the critical postwar battle of supply and demand was at its peak and a severe winter brought further complications.

Since then, crude-oil production has been increased by approximately 415,000 barrels daily and heating-fuel-oil stocks have climbed to totals which would have been considered fantastic last January.

Optimism for the future prevails through the industry but spokemen frankly admit their worries are not at an end.

There is no indication of a decline in the unprecendented demand for petroleum and petroleum products. Shortages of steel continue to prevent maximum exploration for new reserves.

Adverse weather or a prolonged strike could erase much of the current optimism.

The interstate oil compact commission's economic advisory committee explains it this way:

"Petroleum demand now is so large a small percentage change means a quantity substantial enough to affect materially the industry's problems."

Production leads the industry's 1948 accomplishments but is followed closely by improvements in transportation and expansion of research and plant facilities.

The American Petroleum Institute estimates 1948's daily crude production will average 5,500,000 barrels, an all-time high. The previous record, set last year, saw a 5,085,000 average.

Crude runs to stills in early December averaged 5,698,000 daily, compared with 5,300,000 a year earlier.

As the 1948-49 winter season gained momentum, the industry had on hand surprising record stocks of heating-fuel oil.

Gas, oil, and distillate fuel stocks Dec. 4 were nearly 84,000,000 barrels, compared with [illegible] the same week last year. Residual fuel oil stocks totalled 86,300,000 barrels, compared with 55,556,000 last December.

Gasoline stocks, despite the busiest, gas-hungry tourist season in years, totalled 95,000,000 barrels, 8,000,000 ahead of the same 1947 period.

Wells drilled during the year are estimated at 32,000, against 27,000 in 1947.

Approximately 500 new fields were brought in, including particularly encouraging discoveries in the Rocky Mountain areas of Wyoming, Montana, Colorado and Utah, and in central California and west Texas.

An estimated 12,000 miles of pipe-line construction was completed or initiated, with an almost equal division between natural gas and crude and refined [illegible] products.

Plant expansions involved hundreds of millions of dollars, with particular emphasis on research and petrochemical facilities.

Japan Premier Calls Election

TOKYO, Dec. 23.—(Reuters)—Japanese Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida today dissolved the Japanese parliament and called for a general election.

His action followed the passage of a formal non-confidence vote submitted under an arrangement between the government and the opposition to enable new elections to be held next year.

Yoshida had demanded a dissolution since his election as prime minister by a minority vote last October after the Ashida administration had resigned because of a big bribery scandal.

Political observers thought the Democratic Liberals, now in opposition, might obtain enough seats at the elections to enable them to form Japan's most stable government since the war.

Only 100,000 persons, or five per cent of workers in Britain's Development Areas are now unemployed, compared with 800,000, or 40 per cent, in the 1930's.

Cold Hinders Fairford Vote

ASHERN, Man., Dec. 23.—(CP)—Cold and clear weather prevailed today as voters went to the polls in the Fairford provincial by-election to name a successor to the seat in the Manitoba legislature held more than a score of years by former Premier Stuart Garson.

Just as storm conditions hindered the campaigns of the two candidates, the cold and drifting snow was expected to reduce the vote.

Weather forecasters said a strengthening southwesterly wind would bring snow during the day. Temperatures ranged between 10 and 15 below zero this morning with the high for the day forecast for about five above.

Candidates in the provincial by-election are James Frederick Anderson, Ashern barrister representing the government coalition, and Mike Taczynski, Gypsumville farmer, who is the CCF standard-bearer.

The sprawling Fairford constituency stretches northward between Lake Winnipegosis and Lake Winnipeg. Its eastern boundary is about 100 miles northwest of Winnipeg.

The polls, numbering 19, opened at 8 a.m. and will close at 7 p.m.

Greek Ship Held On Wage Claim

VANCOUVER, Dec. 23.—(CP) — The Greek teamship Kostis Lemos, scheduled to sail for India Thursday with a load of grain, will be held in port here pending settlement of a $17,000 wage claim.

An exchequer court writ today directed the British Columbia sheriff's office to seize and hold the ship pending posting of a bond sufficient to cover the sum.

Thirty crew members claimed they had not been paid for four months and that $17,000 is due them.

South Packers Get Pay Boost

CALGARY, Dec. 23.—(CP)—A new wage agreement between the Union Packing Company in Calgary and Local 105, Packing Plant Employes Union, TLC, has been signed here.

Wage increases ranging from two to six cents an hour, granted under the agreement, will be retroactive to Dec. 18. Earlier, it had been announced that the increases would be effective last Nov. 20. The agreement was signed Tuesday.

Gordon Cushing, secretary of the Calgary Trades and Labor Council, said the wage increases "were delayed a month due to a vote called to determine whether the TLC union or the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL) was bargaining agent for the employes.

VOTE RECOGNIZED

Although the agreement was ratified by only 60 of the plant's 288 employes, Mr. Cushing said the acceptance vote would be recognized. He said all employes had been advised of the vote and that if they failed to cast a ballot, it would be taken as signifying non-voters found the agreement acceptable.

Normally a majority of employes in a plant must vote in favor of a wage agreement before it is recognized by the Alberta Department of Industrial Relations.

In the recent jurisdictional dispute between the TLC union and the UPWA, majority of the voters voted to have the UPWA as bargaining agent instead of the TLC However, the vote failed to register the necessary two thirds majority necessary to have the UPWA recognized.

Two Coast Women Contest $116,000 Estate, Will

VANCOUVER, Dec. 23.—(CP)—A lawsuit between two women, each claiming to be the legal widow of the same man, was started in British Columbia supreme court yesterday, involving a $116,000 estate.

Thrice-married Arthur Frederick Tero, who died in North Vancouver, B.C., last Jan. 3, left the bulk of his estate to Dr. Barnardo's Homes in London, England.

Mrs. Adelaide V. Tero, 60-year-old Toronto resident, said she married Tero in Buffalo, N.Y., in 1906, after he divorced his first wife, but they lived together only 18 months.

Mrs. Jean Isobel Tero of Vancouver, who received $150 a month under provisions of the will, said she married Tero in Connecticut in 1910.

Both women are contesting the will.

Tojo Executioners Thought Identified

TOKYO, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The men who executed Hideki Tojo and six other Japanese today are believed to be a United States army lieutenant and a sergeant.

The army refused to name them in response to a written query in advance. But it is generally known that Lieut. Charles C. Rexroad and Sgt. Martin Luther have performed previous executions of minor Japanese war criminals at Sugamo prison.

Smelter Boosts Pension Payments

TRAIL, Dec. 23.—To help in meeting the increased cost of living The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Limited, has decided to supplement temporarily the pensions payable to pensioners receiving less than $45 per month, it was announced here today.

Pensioners who now receive or will receive less than $25 per month under the new pension rules will have this amount increased to $30 per month; those now receiving between $25 and $40 per month will have this amount increased by $5 per month; those now receiving between $40 and $45 per month will have their total brought up to the latter figure. The supplemental allowance will cease when the pensioner becomes eligible for a government old age pension.

U.S. Destroyers Going To Turkey

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Two battle-tested United States destroyers, the Buchanan and McCala, are being transferred to the Turkish navy, United States navy headquarters here said today.

The destroyers are being reactivated at the naval shipyard at Charleston, S.C., under an enactment approved last April authorizing additional funds for the Greek-Turkish aid program.

Both vessels were built in 1942 and have extensive second world war battle records. United States crews will sail them to Turkey early in 1949.

Three Seamen Get Jail Sentences

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Dec. 23.—(CP) — Three seamen, Melville Thompson, 25, of Owen Sound, David Lyle, 20, of Brantford, and Henry Trembley, 20, of Toronto, were given reformatory and jail sentences here yesterday.

Thompson was sentenced to two months in reformatory for persuading seamen to desert their ship, the S.S. Norisle at Tobermory on the tip of Bruce Peninsula, June 22. Lyle and Trembley each were sentenced to two months in jail for assault when they boarded the S.S. Manitoulin here June 21.

Manitoba Protests New Freight Boost

WINNIPEG, Dec. 23—(CP)—Increases in freight rates on farm implements from eastern Canada amounting to 48 per cent since April were protested yesterday by Premier Campbell of Manitoba.

A new railway tariff directs that, effective Dec. 27, farm implements shipped from the east will be transferred from a special tariff to the higher class-six rates.

Before April 7, it cost 82½ cents to ship 100 pounds of farm machinery from Ontario manufacturing points to Winnipeg. Effective April 7, this rate was raised to $1 a hundredweight. Effective Dec. 27, it will become $1.22.

UP 15 PER CENT

Last September, the railways raised their competitive rates by 15 per cent, which was in addition to the 21 per cent, over-all boost ordered by the Board of Transport Commissioners last April and brought to about 39 per cent the total increase over the period, Mr. Campbell said in a statement.

"This latest increase will go into effect with no inquiry or investigation by the Board of Transport Commissioners unless it is challenged by some interested party.

"In fact, there seems to be some doubt as to whether the Board has the authority to make such an investigation on its own initiative."

Premier Campbell said Manitoba wished to register "strong objection" to the practice of announcing changes in individual rates without any attempt to assess their importance.

The province objected also to the principle that new rates should be allowed to go into effect without adequate calculation of the additional revenue, which the railways will obtain from them.

WOOL SAVES SANTA CLAUS

TORONTO, Dec. 23.—(CP)—A Christmas crisis was averted by a whisker here last night.

A supply of cotton wool was rushed to Santa Claus in the nick of time when he lost his beard just before an appearance at a Christmas party.

The youngsters were absorbed in their gifts and didn't notice the difference.

Work Stoppage Closes Two Ports

SEATTLE, Dec. 23.—(AP)—A new waterfront work stoppage spread yesterday from Seattle to Tacoma.

Puget Sound's two major ports were made idle in a dispute over alleged beatings of AFL waterfront workers in Seattle as a hangover from the recent west coast CIO longshoremen's strike.

During that strike the Seattle port was closed by the CIO longshoremen, remained the only major port operating on the coast.

At San Francisco, unexpected labor disputes prevented the liner President Wilson leaving port on schedule. Passengers had boarded the liner when a dispute involving deck hands arose. AFL sailors refused to sign ship's articles.

U.S. LIVING COSTS SHOW SLIGHT DROP

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(BUP)—Lower food prices forced the cost of living down eight tenths of one per cent last month, the labor department reported today.

It was the second consecutive month in which living costs had fallen.

Slight declines in prices of clothing and house furnishings and a "substantial" slump in food prices were "primarily responsible" for the overall drop in the cost of living, the department said.

Only rents, fuel and a few miscellaneous items went up last month. They showed only slight increases.

As of Nov. 15, the department said, living costs were 4.4 per cent above mid-November, 1947, and 29.2 per cent higher than June, 1946, when most price controls were scrapped.

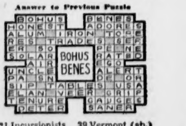
Answer to Previous Puzzle



THIS 130-FOOT FOREST GIANT is the largest Christmas tree in the United States this year, according to residents of Bellingham, Washington city just over the border, below Vancouver. Citizens turned out to see arrival of the huge tree, which topped city's tallest buildings.

Strange Customs Observed At Yule in Other Lands

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Christmas and the Christmas spirit are much the same the world over but observance of the season in Europe includes many strange variations.

In many parts of France, Pere Noel—alias Santa Claus—will be accompanied on his rounds by the whipping father, a disagreeable character who brings bundles of switches for naughty children. But the switches often as not are tied up in a bundle with candies, and after a fatherly lecture even the naughty small fry get presents.

On Christmas Eve or Christmas Day in Czechoslovakia one should not be surprised to be invited in off the street because of an ancient superstition that it is most unlucky to have an odd number of persons.

In Slovakia and Moravia good luck is attributed to the shiny "heller," a small coin which gets its lustre in a curious way: A goose is persuaded to swallow the heller. In the bird's gizzard the coin, due to chemical processes of digestion, takes on a fine sheen. It is recovered after the bird is slaughtered and put into the stuffing. It brings luck to whoever gets it on his plate—if he doesn't choke on it.

The orthodox calendar makes everything 13 days late in Russia, so the religious festival of Christmas is observed Jan. 7. There are no presents. Russians set up many Christmas trees and this year ornaments are plentiful.

In Poland and some other lands of eastern Europe the domestic animals share in the Christmas feasts. It has long been a peasant custom to take portions of every dish served at the big dinner and feed them to the beasts in the barn. The thought is the animals are entitled to a share.

Ireland's most colorful custom on Christmas Eve is the candle in the window. Lights twinkle all over the island, on the chance that another Mary and Joseph may be wandering about without a place to go.

TOSSED FOR A LOSS was Mexican bullfighter El Vizcaino in Lima, Peru, Sunday. Fortunately he landed right side up and was unhurt.

South Inquest To Open Tuesday

CALGARY, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Inquest into the death of Allan Gibson, 26, of Acadia Valley, Alta., killed in a highway accident on the Chestermere Road Monday, will be held here next Tuesday. Date was set at a preliminary inquest yesterday when the body was identified. Mr. Gibson was killed when a truck in which he was a passenger overturned and plunged down a steep gully.

King, Family To Stay In Palace

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(BUP)—King George VI and members of the Royal Family will attend church services at Buckingham Palace on Christmas morning, Palace sources said today.

The services will be held in the music room where Princess Elizabeth's son, Prince Charles of Edinburgh, was christened last week.

The King's physicians have ordered him to spend Christmas in the Palace because of his illness, a circulatory ailment affecting his legs.

Even Barbara Ann Has Labor Affiliation

By Fred Kerner

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Barbara Ann Scott will soon be a full fledged union member.

For that matter she'll belong to three unions, all affiliates of the Association of Actors and Artists of America (AFL). Application already has been made to the American Guild of Variety Artists by the world champion skater.

Now in her third day as star of the Roxy Theatre's holiday stage show, Barbara Ann is a full-fledged "variety artist" and will pay a $50 initiation fee along with an annual fee of $24. As her salary increases the annual fee increases up to a $100 maximum.

Rumored contract signings with motion picture producers and radio shows will mean that Barbara Ann will apply for membership in two of AGVA's sister unions—the American Federation of Radio Artists and the Screen Actors' Guild.

Ever since Barbara Ann announced her intention of becoming a professional skater early this year and especially since she made her successful debut Tuesday night, there has been considerable talk about her future in radio and the movies.

Officials of the Music Corporation of America reiterated today that nothing has been settled concerning movies and radio. Plans all are still tentative and include television shows as well.

Nontheless the union memberships are being applied for so that when the moves into the other fields of entertainment are made, Barbara Ann will be ready—from a union point of view.

HALF PRICE

Membership in AFRA will only cost her half as much as the AGVA membership because of the affiliation between the unions. The same holds true for the Screen Actors Guild.

Instead of a $50 initiation fee in AFRA, Barbara Ann will pay $25 and her annual dues will be between $12 and $50 a year—half the regular rate. The SAG initiation will be $37.50 instead of $75 and she will pay them a half-fee annually ranging between $9 and $50, depending on her earnings from acting parts.

Army Deserter's Status Restored

Canadian War Hero Gets Military Slate Wiped Clean

VANCOUVER, Dec. 23—(CP)—Christmas will be merrier this year for a scattered band of army veterans in Vancouver, Toronto and Fort Worth, Texas.

Miliard J. Allison, who served overseas with them in the 38th Canadian Armored Regiment, yesterday was restored to full military status by the United States. His Canadian buddies had a hand in helping get his army slate wiped clean.

Allison, now 35, deserted while the United States was at peace, to "get into the fight." He joined Canadian forces in Vancouver.

He was credited with killing 50 Germans in one afternoon of combat. Last week he was sentenced to six months for army desertion.

MATES "WENT TO BAT"

But Canadians who served with him "went to bat" for him.

Lt.Col. John W. Toogood, his former commanding officer, and Capt. David Bell, his troop commander whose life Allison had once saved, started the ball rolling in Vancouver. They protested to the Canadian Legion, the American Legion and Allison's congressman in Fort Worth.

From Toronto, Major W. Marlow and eight other officers joined in the protests.

Yesterday Maj.-Gen. Jame. Christiansen, commanding the Second Armored Division at Camp Hood, Tex., announced he had reviewed Allison's court-martial sentence, approved it, but remitted execution of it.

STATUS RESTORED

An announcement said "this action will restore Allison to a normal duty status as a soldier in the United States army."

"There was no doubt in my mind that he would be cleared when the matter got through to normal channels," said Col. Toogood last night.

In Fort Worth, Allison at home with his wife—formerly of St. Catharines, Ont.—and three children commented:

"It's a wonderful Christmas present."

He said he planned to work for his discharge at once. Previously he had shown no bitterness.

"Give the army a break," he pleaded. "It's a good army. I've been treated square. My case isn't the only one with a story—for what I did I could have got a dishonorable discharge."

Short of Fuel, Planes Safe

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Two United States Navy planes over the Pacific, dangerously low on fuel, called for help yesterday but both made safe landings at Moffett Field, near here.

They were Flying Fortresses—B-17s—long familiar as U.S. air force equipment. The Navy said it was using several of them as "utility ships," and on "experimental missions."

The two were enroute to the mainland from Hawaii. They encountered headwinds of unexpected strength and fuel consumption leaped.

The first word of danger came at about 9 a.m. The Navy said the pilot of one plane sent a distress message saying he might have to "ditch" his ship 600 miles off San Fransisco.

This message sent Navy, Coast Guard and Air Force air-sea rescue units, both air and surface, toward a rendezvous.

Soon an aerial escort accompanied the plane and saw it to a safe landing. One officer said it had only 45 gallons left in its gas tanks.

Meanwhile escorts had hurried to take over the watch on the other Fortress. It got in safely, too, about 15 minutes after the other.

Each plane carried a crew of five men.

$10,000 Fire

TORONTO, Dec. 23.—(CP)—Damage estimated at $10,000 resulted from a fire which last night swept through a building containing two apartments in adjacent Forest Hill village. Sever persons were forced out before the blaze was brought under control.

Author Dies
